

Ratification Given 25th Amendment Of U.S. Constitution

Disabled President Can be Replaced by Vice President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two gaps in the Constitution have been plugged with the ratification of an amendment dealing with presidential disability and vacancy in the vice presidency. The 25th Amendment was ratified Friday when Nevada became the 38th state to give its approval. Congress submitted the amendment to the states July 6, 1965, after the Senate and House each approved it by the required two-thirds majority.

Becomes Law

Nevada's action completed ratification by the required three-fourths of the 50 states. Minnesota had become the 37th state earlier Friday. For a time it was thought Minnesota was the 38th, but North Dakota officials ruled their state's apparent ratification Thursday was not valid.

The amendment became a part of the Constitution immediately, although a formal proclamation of ratification will be made later by the administrator of the General Services Administration. The last previous amendment was adopted Jan. 23, 1964. It banned the poll tax as a condition for elections to federal office.

One section of the 25th Amendment provides that whenever the office of vice president becomes vacant, the president shall nominate a successor who would take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both houses of Congress.

The country has been without a vice president 16 times. These vacancies covered 37 years.

Other sections provide that when a president is incapacitated or otherwise unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the vice president shall become acting president. If a president notifies Congress in writing of his disability, the vice president would take over until the president sent word that he was able to resume the powers of his office.

Acting President

In case a president was unable or unwilling to declare his disability, the vice president would become acting president if he and a majority of the Cabinet, or a majority of such other body as Congress may later provide by law, advised Congress in writing that the president was unable to discharge his duties.

A president could regain his powers by notifying Congress that his inability no longer existed. This declaration could be challenged within four days by the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet or such other body as Congress might later provide.

If such a dispute arose, it would be settled by Congress, which would be required to assemble within 48 hours if it were not in session.

17 U.S. Dead During Truce In S. Vietnam

Authorities Claim 92 Reds Have Died During Same Period

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)

— U.S. military authorities announced today that 17 Americans have been killed and 126 wounded in the battle-scarred lunar new year truce.

During the same period — from the beginning of the truce at 8 a.m. Wednesday to 4 p.m. Friday — U.S. and allied forces reported killing 92 of the enemy and detaining 53, authorities said.

There seemed to be little doubt that the allies would resume full-scale operations when the four-day truce declared by the Saigon government ends at 7 a.m. Sunday, Vietnam time, despite the Viet Cong's proclaimed truce that would continue until Wednesday morning.

Appeals Likely

Allied troops moved from the defense to the offense and U.S. bombers began fresh air strikes over North Vietnam within hours after two-day truces for Christmas and New Years Day. There was no indication this would not be repeated Sunday. Numerous world leaders have appealed for an indefinite cease-fire as an avenue toward peace talks.

The allies reported Friday that there had been 332 guerrilla-initiated incidents so far and listed 83 as "significant." None was characterized as a violation of the truce however.

Among the significant incidents listed by the American authorities were 40 brief engagements in which U.S. or allied units suffered light casualties, and a seven-hour battle on the first day of the truce when a company of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade suffered moderate casualties.

More than half of the 17 American dead reported by the U.S. spokesman were believed to have resulted from this fighting on the fringe of War Zone D 20 miles north of Saigon.

Red Chinese Assail Soviets During Rally

100,000 Demonstrators Hear Slogans Calling for Russian Leaders' Ouster

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's premier and foreign minister criticized Soviet leaders at a huge rally in Peking today, and the 100,000 participants later staged a demonstration at the Soviet Embassy in the Red Chinese capital, Radio Peking reported.

The broadcast said supporters of Chairman Mao Tse-tung gathered to denounce "fascist violence by Soviet revisionists" and to support a Chinese protest against Soviet demonstrations at the Chinese Embassy in Moscow.

It was probably the largest anti-Soviet demonstration staged in Peking since daily demonstrations started late last month. Slogans called for "solidarity between the Chinese and Soviet peoples to overthrow the Soviet revisionist leading clique." Chinese term for the Kremlin's leaders.

Unrepresentative Premier Chou En-lai told the rally the "Soviet revisionist leading group does not represent the Soviet masses." He said a distinction must be made between the Soviet people and their leaders.

Earlier in the day, Radio Peking said the Foreign Ministry filed a second protest with the Soviet government, warning that unless anti-Chinese demonstrations are stopped in Moscow, the Soviet Embassy in Peking may have to bear grave consequences. The consequences were not spelled out.

The protest concerned four days of Soviet demonstrations at the Chinese Embassy in Moscow Feb. 6-9 and charged that Soviet leaders sent "hooligans" to break into the embassy. Chinese Red Guards have demonstrated at the Soviet Embassy in Peking continuously since Jan. 26 against alleged mistreatment of Chinese students and diplomats in Moscow.

Awaiting Reply

There were no demonstrations at the Chinese Embassy in Moscow Friday, apparently because the Soviet government is awaiting a reply to its latest protest note to Peking.

Both nations have demanded that the other ensure the safety of the personnel of their embassies and the conditions necessary for their work.

Another aspect of the freeze in relations between the two Communist giants is the scrap-

Kellett Bill Hit During 9-Hour Siege

MADISON (AP) — Prospects for passage of the Kellett bill to reorganize state government sagged seriously under a nine-hour siege by unbending foes at a combined Senate and Assembly hearing Friday.

"It's my personal opinion if the bill were brought out for action now, it wouldn't get one-third of the votes of the Senate and maybe not that many in the Assembly," said Sen. Walter G. Hollander, R-Rosendale, co-chairman of the Joint Finance Committee.

Hollander, whose committee listened to 62 witnesses at the hearing in the jammed Assembly chambers, said a decision would have to be made on whether to attempt to amend the bill or set up another two-year study.

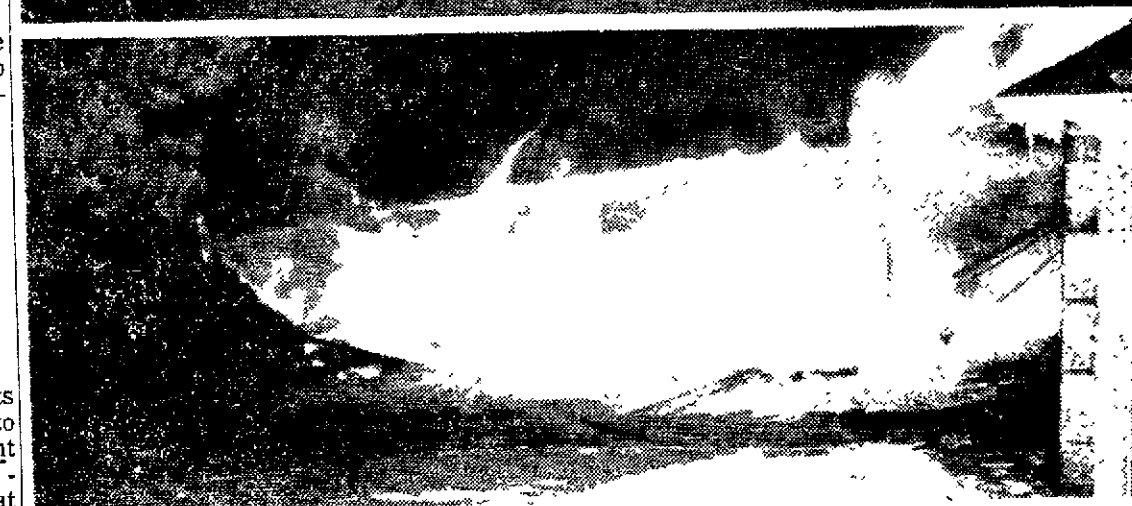

"I think we will permit the bill to rest peacefully for a time—I'm not saying how long a time—in order to permit sentiment to jell and judgments to form," Hollander said after the hearing.

Another Study
"I think we're going to need another study committee to go over the report of this study group and then come in with something for the 1969 session," added another committee member, Sen. Chester Dempsey, R-Hartland.

The Kellett bill, packaging 86 state agencies into 26 major departments, was produced after a lengthy task force study set up by the 1965 legislature. Opponents of the omnibus measure outnumbered backers by a 2-to-1 ratio at the hearing.

Outdoors groups, objecting to a proposed merger of conservation and water pollution control agencies, led the assault on the bill. They were joined by the Board of Health, Public Service Commission, two teachers' retirement funds, the Commission on Aging, Civil Defense, and fire under control.

$100,000 Loss in New London Blaze

Bowling Lanes, Youth Center Destroyed Today at New London

NEW LONDON — A bowling alley and youth center were destroyed by fire early today, firemen had little hope in extinguishing it.

Several loud explosions rocked the immediate area. Cause of the blasts was not immediately determined.

Started in Youth Center
Electrical and telephone service in the immediate area was interrupted, but service was restored at noon today.

Schafer said the fire started in the youth center and then spread to the bowling lanes. The fire destroyed Le Noble's Lanes and bar, and The Den, on S. Pearl and Wolf River Avenues.

Neither the owners, Jerome and Jacob LeNoble, nor Fire Chief Al Schafer, would make a firm estimate of the loss. Schafer said he would have to talk with the LeNobles before making an estimate. At first he thought damages would exceed $70,000, and then reconsidered the estimate, pointing out the $10,000 per lane cost of automatic pin spotters.

Firemen were summoned at 1:18 a.m. and when they arrived the only LeNoble was on fire. An Rock County accident have brought Wisconsin's 1967 highway toll to 85, compared with 97 on this date a year ago.

Franklyn W. Scheldt and Warner W. Granzow, both 24 and of Edgerton, were killed shortly after midnight when the car driven by Schmidt struck a tree after leaving a Rock County road about five miles northwest of Milton Junction.

Dennis H. Fabor, 23, Merrill, and Miss Susan Evancon, 21, Madison, employees of the State Medical Society, died Friday when their car collided with another auto on a highway near Madison.

The other driver and a passenger in Fabor's car were hospitalized. Carrie Roehl, 7, of Aztalan, Jefferson County, was killed when a sled she was riding down the driveway of her home slid under the wheels of a school bus Friday.

Morocco to Get More U.S. Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has pledged additional arms assistance to visiting King Hassan II of Morocco, who officials say faces a 3-to-1 arms superiority from neighboring Algeria.

Hassan met Friday for the second time with President Johnson. At the same time the State Department said "there will be a limited expansion of our present agreement of modest arms sales to Morocco for purely defensive purposes."

Thant Wants Longer Truce

Secretary-General Calls for End of Bombing by U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-general U Thant has made an appeal for "an indefinite and unconditional extension" of the lunar new year cease-fire in Vietnam.

In a statement issued Friday night, Thant also called for "an unconditional end" to the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. He expressed belief that both steps would help bring about peace talks.

The Tet or lunar new year cease-fire started at 6 p.m. EST Tuesday. South Vietnam and the United States agreed to a four-day truce ending at 6 p.m. EST today. North Vietnam and the Viet Cong declared a seven-day truce ending at 6 p.m. EST next Tuesday.

North Vietnam has said a halt in the bombing could lead to peace talks.

Thant issued his appeal one day after Secretary of State Dean Rusk said at his Washington news conference that the North Vietnamese "cannot expect us to stop our military action by bombing while they continue their military action by invasion" of South Vietnam.

Thant's statement, was regarded in some quarters, as a reaction to Rusk's remarks.

Thant told a news conference Jan. 10 that he felt there would be no move toward peace while the bombing of North Vietnam continued.

Scottish City Gives Kosygin Huge Welcome

Russian Premier Ends 5 Hours of Talks With Wilson

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — This Scottish industrial city gave Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin a rousing welcome today despite police fears of a student demonstration.

A few pacifists carried banner-bomb posters, but a crowd of 5,000 cheered the Soviet leader as he walked across George Square to greet members of the city government.

Pacifists of the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament waved their banners, some in Russian, but otherwise caused no disturbance. Some banners appeared as much aimed at the United States as at the Soviet Union.

Kosygin hardly glanced at them, apparently more intent on shaking as many hands as possible before entering City Hall to sign the visitors' book.

Bagpipe Waits
Throughout the ceremony bagpipers of the Glasgow police filled the square with the wail of the pipes.

Kosygin, his daughter and his grandson drove 17 miles to visit the Hunterston nuclear power station, a pride of British technology.

Later he had lunch at the Marine Hotel in Troon with William Ross, secretary of state for Scotland. Fire broke out in a bedroom at the hotel just before 8 a.m. It swept through two rooms and damaged the roof before firemen put it out. Detectives began an investigation.

The visiting Soviet leader's schedule also called for a stop at a soccer game, a banquet at Edinburgh Castle and possibly a few sips of scotch whisky.

Kosygin ended his formal talks with Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London Friday and took the overnight train to Scotland.

Little Optimism

He has five hours of informal talks with Wilson Sunday, but there was little optimism this would bring them any closer on how to promote peace in Vietnam. The final communique, when Kosygin leaves for Moscow Monday, probably will include their differences as well as their common hopes.

Their one meeting point on Vietnam was that the war should be ended at the conference table rather than on the battlefield.

Kosygin has stressed repeatedly that the Soviet Union supports North Vietnam's idea that an unconditional end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam could lead to peace talks.

Wilson's men feel that Kosygin's publicity for the North Vietnamese plan represents a gain. They say, Hanoi is publicly committed for the first time to consider a political rather than a military solution.

The British, however, are wary of the North Vietnamese proposal to halt the bombing because they feel it could give Hanoi a chance to continue its help to the Viet Cong.

Most Career Veterans Barred

Strict Requirements Placed On Crowded Arlington Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Veterans of World War II (amvets), said it would ask the President and Congress to reconsider the move by the Army, which administers the cemetery.

The Pentagon said the policy change does not apply to the other 67 active national cemeteries.

The Pentagon said it plans to add about 60,000 more graves sites adjacent to Arlington beginning in December 1969. But only 6,437 sites remain now available—less than a year's requirements at the current rate of more than 7,000 burials annually.

Non-career veterans and their dependents, who now will be barred, made up about half of last year's burials. The Pentagon said the Vietnam war accounted for 290 burials last year and "has not been a major factor" in the space shortage.

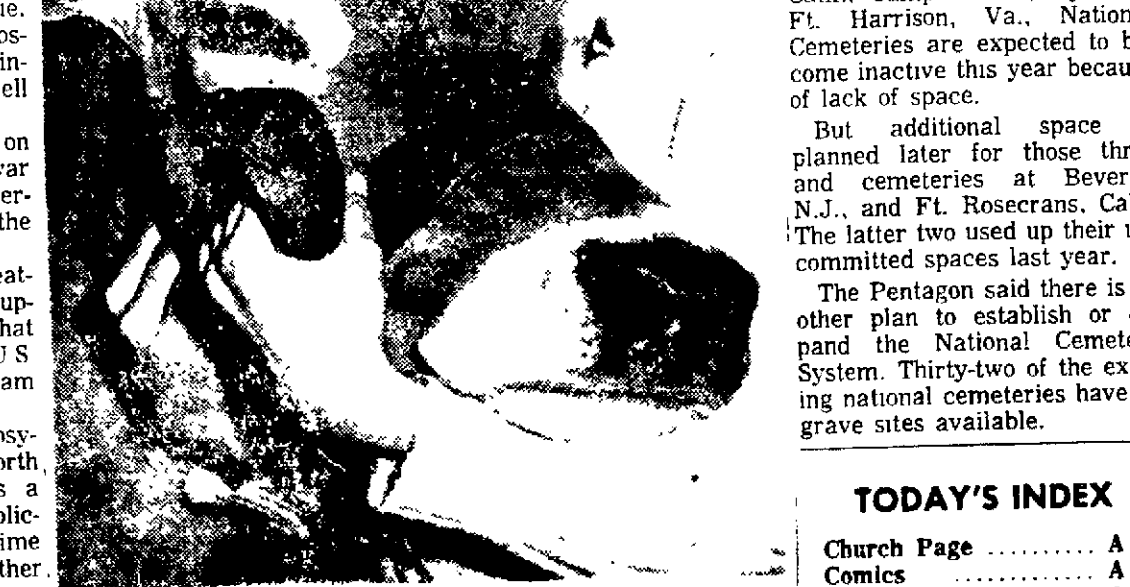

The Pentagon said the new policy "does not affect previous commitments to eligible survivors" of persons already buried there.

Others Inactive
It said the Golden Gate, Calif., Camp Nelson, Ky., and Ft. Harrison, Va., National Cemeteries are expected to become inactive this year because of lack of space.

But additional space is planned later for those three and cemeteries at Beverly, N.J., and Ft. Rosecrans, Calif. The latter two used up their uncommitted spaces last year.

The Pentagon said there is no other plan to establish or expand the National Cemetery System. Thirty-two of the existing national cemeteries have no grave sites available.

Lawrence Trounces Kohawks, 91-78 in Conference Clash

Schultz, Andrews Pace Victory; Vikes to Meet Beloit Tonight

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Lawrence University Vikes connected on 21 of 26 free throw attempts in the first half, including 14 in succession in a 9½ minute stretch, and went on to trounce Coe College of Iowa, 91-78, in a Midwest Conference game here Friday night.

Guard Dick Schultz and forward Mike Andrews hit 23 and 21 points, respectively, for the Vikes, who never trailed after an opening Coe basket. Speedy guard Rudy Collum tallied 22 markers for the Kohawks.

Recording their second win over the Kohawks this season, Coach Clyde Rusk's quintet now owns a 4-7 MC mark and stands at 7-8, overall. The Vikes get a shot at the .500 level tonight, when they play host to Beloit at 8 p.m. Coe has slipped to a 2-8 loop record.

Bucs Collect 9th Win; Redmen Fall To Fifth Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beloit College improved its Midwest Conference basketball crown prospects with a victory over Ripon Friday night while a loss by Carroll made things a bit tougher for Carthage in the College Conference of Illinois.

Ripon dropped to fifth in the Midwest after losing 76-74 to Beloit. Illinois Wesleyan slipped into the CCI lead past idle Carthage with a 93-70 decision over Carroll.

Tom Birk, a transfer student playing his first game for Carroll, led with Pioneers with 22 points as Wesleyan gained a 7-1 CCI standing over Carthage, now 6-1.

The Pioneers led for the initial 10 minutes, but Wesleyan slipped past to give Carroll an 0-8 conference mark.

Jim Jones' layup with two seconds left provided Beloit with victory after the Buccaneers and Ripon repeatedly traded the lead. Jones scored 26 points, and brother Kit added 19.

Beloit is 9-1 in the conference and 13-1 over-all. Ripon is 6-5 in the league.

Second-place Cornell was idle and faced winless Grinnell today. Former conference leader Knox, now third, was beaten 59-53 by Carleton as the Carls climbed past Ripon in the standings.

Monmouth beat St. Olaf 69-64 for a sixth-place tie between the two.

BOSTON (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors suffered a crippling blow Friday night as Nate Thurmond suffered two broken bones in his left hand in a 137-136 National Basketball Association loss in double overtime to the Boston Celtics.

Thurmond, a 6-foot-11 member of the NBA's Western Division All-Star team, was injured in a scramble midway through the second period after he had scored 10 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Would Join Hornung in New Orleans Backfield

Speculate Taylor May Go to Saints

NEW YORK (AP) — When the New Orleans Saints come brass, including owner John Mecom Jr., made the picks late in the draft. And Jim Taylor just might be a member of the group.

Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the Green Bay Packers and Notre Dame, was the big name among the 42 veterans selected Friday by Coach Tom Taylor. He was picked by the Saints in the National Football League. Taylor, who played out his option with the Packers in 1966, is due to discuss business with Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi before May 1 when he becomes a free agent. The veteran fullback, a Louisiana State alumnus, would be a natural for the Bayou country.

Although Hornung saw limited service last year and did not play in either the NFL title game or the Super Bowl, Fears is confident he still can play good football. Hornung agrees.

The 42 players from the 14 San Francisco NFL teams (Atlanta was exempted) cost about $8.5 million. That breaks down to about $200,000 a player.

Bluejays Tally 5 Straight Points; Tip Bulldogs, 62-60

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Plagued by free throw miseries most of the season, Menasha put together a string of five points — three on gifts — late in the game to tip New London, 62-60, here Friday night.

In reversing an earlier Mid-Eastern Conference defeat, the Bluejays came from a 58-57 deficit with their string of five. They weren't out of the woods until the final horn sounded because the visitors had the last two shots of the game, one of which connected.

Although free throwing played a big part in their victory, the Jays weren't particularly accurate from the line, making 12 and missing 11. Neither was New London, which put in eight of 13.

But, both were phenomenal from the floor, the Jays netting 64 per cent of their tries on 25 of 46 and New London just missing the .500 mark on 26 of 53.

The visitors were brilliant from outside while the Jays did most of their damage close to the basket.

Menasha held the upper hand for the first three periods. It led by nine points in the first quarter, by eight at one juncture in the second, by 35-29 at

Rockets Outlast Ghosts In M-E Thriller, 74 to 72

Neenah Can Clinch Title Tie Against Two Rivers Tonight; Losse Scores 22 in Victory

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

KAUKAUNA — A hot-headed, cool-headed Neenah High School basketball team outlasted Kaukauna, 74-72, in a classic Mid-Eastern Conference game Friday night to come within easy range of the 1966-7 championship.

Neenah, one of the state's leading architects of the exciting - narrow victory, built its winning streak to 13 games and its over-all record to 14-1. In defeating M-E runnerup Kaukauna for the second time (the Ghosts have won all of their other 12 starts), the state's fourth - ranked team took a 2-game lead with only three to go. Coach Doug Martin's Rockets play host to lowly Two Rivers tonight in a bid to assure themselves of at least a title tie. Kaukauna travels to Clintonville tonight.

The biggest crowd in Kaukauna basketball history (more than 2,500 jammed into the new gym, while many others were turned away) saw the "M-E game of the year," which lived up to its billing — and then some.

The excruciating tension never let up, as the score was tied 13 times, and the lead changed hands on 11 occasions.

Outcome in Doubt

Neenah broke the final tie (60-all) with 5 minutes, 52 seconds left in the game — but the outcome was in doubt until the final nine seconds. Dan Jankowski, the Rockets' agile, powerful center, produced a 3-point play to put his team ahead for good. After a good move, he connected on a short jump shot and was fouled. He converted — for a 63-60 lead.

Gary Losse, Neenah's all-around court wizard, stole the ball and set up another Jankowski basket moments later. Losse himself scored (with 5:00) after gathering up a loose ball. The Rockets now enjoyed their longest lead, 67-60, but the Ghosts had plenty of ammunition left.

Pat Kavanaugh and John Van De Hey tossed in a couple of quickies from short range, and the Ghosts trailed by only three points. Larry Handler, who was destined to score Neenah's final seven points, hit the target after a pass from Losse — and the lead was up to 69-64, with 2:46 remaining. Quinn Vandenhuevel, the Ghosts' leading clutch shooter of the night, sank a pair of free throws — but Handler retaliated with a baseline shot, and the lead again was five points.

Deficit Melts

Kavanaugh boomed one through from 25 feet (with 1:35 left) and Dennis Spice propelled in a corner shot (with :55 to go) — and Kaukauna partisans went wild as the Ghost deficit had melted to one point.

Neenah's poise wouldn't be shaken, however, as Losse, an authentic "ice man," directed a "freeze" that protected the skippy lead. Finally, with nine seconds left, Handler shook free underneath and scored. He was also fouled and sank that shot for an insurmountable, 74-70 advantage.

Vandenhuevel, a fantastic southpaw marksman from "out in left field" all night, came up with his topper — a swisher from nearly 40 feet away. The Ghosts frantically called time out, but only one second remained when the clock was stopped. The issue was decided. And, barring a minor miracle in the last three games, time has also run out for them and the bid for their first title in 26 years.

Neenah blazed away at 53.3 per cent shooting rate — 32 baskets in 60 tries. The Rockets hit expertly from the outside and pinpointed their passes well through Kaukauna's zone defense to set up some good inside chances. The Ghosts hit the mark 28 times in 68 tries — for a .412 pace.

Account For 62

Losse, Handler and Jankowski teamed up for 62 of the 74 shots enroute to a 22-point total. Handler connected on 10 of 17 and finished with 21 points. Jankowski, with 7-for-11 from the floor, wound up with 19 points.

Neenah hit 10 of 14 first-quarter shots in moving to a 22-17 lead — the only quarter in which the Rockets outscored the Ghosts. The Ken Vander Velden-coached Ghosts came back to cut their halftime deficit to two points, 37-35.

NEENAH (22 15 19 18—74) Handler 10 1 4; Ross 2 1 3; Jankowski 7 5 4; Losse 10 2 1; Fetters 1 0 1; Burton 1 0 1; Magadan 1 1 2. Totals 32 10 16. FTM 3

KAUKAUNA (17 18 19 18—72) Van De Hey 3 1 3; Vandenhuevel 10 3 3; Spice 6 2 2; Kavanaugh 6 5 1; Carstens 3 5 2. Totals 28 16 11. FTM 6.

The locals' Lamers had other ideas, however, as he came in three lengthy set-shots in the closing canto, the second one boosting the hosts to a 59-58 advantage with 3:30 left in the game.

After Two Rivers' Tom Turman knotted the count with a free-throw, Dennis Gossens draped a rebound shot and Lamers meshed his third long ball - ringer of the period with 1:25 showing to up the Kimberly margin to 63-59.

A steal by the visitors' John Miller and his resulting 2-point shot narrowed the gap to 63 - 61 with :38 remaining, before Swokowski iced the contest for the Papermakers with a pair of perfectly netted charity tosses. Lamers wrapped things up with his seventh point of the frame.

Paced by Ken Fries' nine tallies in the earlier going, Kimberly spurred to an 18-10 lead midway through the initial quarter, only to fall behind, 24-20, at its conclusion.

Early in the second segment, the Papermakers' Jeff Wildenberg coined one of his six buckets to even the score at 28-all.

After a see - saw scoring exchange, Gossens canned a pair of free-throws and a field goal just before halftime, pushing

Harvey Kuehn Will Retire

Veteran of 14 Baseball Seasons In Major Leagues

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Infielder-outfielder Harvey Kuehn, veteran of 14 major league baseball seasons, is retiring and will not report to spring training, the Philadelphia Phillies reported today.

Kuehn, 36, purchased from the Chicago Cubs last April, played 86 games with Philadelphia and batted .296. He was released after last season but was invited to spring training as a non-roster player.

John Quinn, Phillies general manager, said he received a letter from Kuehn announcing his retirement. Quinn quoted it in part:

"Thank you ... for wanting me back with the Phillies. You have made me a very generous offer, but I am going to stay in Milwaukee and work for a television station."

In 3-9 League

Kuehn was signed off the University of Wisconsin campus in 1952 by the Detroit Tigers and, after playing 63 games in Davenport, Iowa with the Three-I League, moved up to the Tigers for 19 games.

In his first full year in the majors, he tied a record by getting 209 hits in his rookie season. In his seventh season, he led the American League in hitting, with .353.

He was traded to the Cleveland Indians in 1960 for Rocky Colavito. He played one season for the Indians and was traded to San Francisco where he played until May, 1965, when he went to the Cubs.

His overall major league batting record was .303.

The Phillies said Kuehn's place at spring training camp in Clearwater, Fla., will be taken by Ricardo Joseph, 27, a right-hander drafted by the San Diego farm club from the Kansas City organization last year.

Joseph, 6-foot-1, had 13 home runs and hit .287 for Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League last year.

Fran Tarkenton Shocks Vikings -- 'Impossible For Me to Return' in '67

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Quarterback Fran Tarkenton, one of pro football's hottest quarterback commodities because of his scrambling showmanship, apparently is available in a trade if the right team can come up with the right offer.

Tarkenton dropped a bombshell on the Minnesota Vikings Friday, announcing that "under no circumstances" will he return to play football for the Vikings of the National Football League next fall.

It was the tone of finality in Tarkenton's letter to Coach Norm Van Brocklin, General Manager Jim Finks and the five-man Vikings' board of directors which dumbfounded the club.

There have been recurring rumors in the six years Tarkenton has been the Minnesota quarterback that he and Van Brocklin had clashed over strategy and personalities. But after the 1966 season, the pair reportedly had a heart-to-heart talk and reached some understanding.

Tarkenton dashed that truce with his letter, received here Friday.

The 26-year-old star wrote in part:

"Couldn't Erase Memory
"Because of the events of the past few months, and my feelings toward a number of things, it is impossible for me to return to the Vikings with a clear and open mind. As you know, I have tried to subdue these feelings and erase them from my mind, but it has been impossible.

"Feeling as I do, I am sure that this decision is the best for the Vikings, you (Van Brocklin) and myself. I hope you and the organization understand that nothing can be done which would change my decision."

Tarkenton wished Van Brocklin and the Vikings "every success," and thanked Van Brocklin for "your help and guidance during the early years of my pro career."

In spite of the finality of Tarkenton's letter, the Vikings held out hope they could persuade him to reconsider. Finks said he talked with Tarkenton on the telephone Friday, and plans to have more conversations with him.

Van Brocklin said he had "not a thing" to say on the matter.

Speculation has spread in recent weeks that Tarkenton might be involved in a trade. But Finks would not say whether the former University of Georgia star was mentioned in trade talks Finks and Van Brocklin had in New York this week.

Surprises in Three State Conferences

South Upsets Green Bay West, 74-72

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three of Wisconsin's major conferences were running out of room at the top after another Friday night of surprises on the state high school basketball scene.

Upsets clouded the title picture in the Fox River Valley, the Wisconsin Valley and the Milwaukee Catholic conferences.

Sheboygan South did the damage in the Fox Valley, creating a three-way tie for first place by whipping Green Bay West in overtime 74 - 72. Now sharing first place with West are Oshkosh and Manitowoc.

Merrill's Bluejays jolted Scho-

field in the Wisconsin Valley 76-63, giving Rhinelander and Wisconsin Rapids a chance to muscle in on valley laurels. Both are one-half game back.

Milwaukee Marquette bumped Waukesha Memorial from first to third place in the Catholic Conference, 63 - 45. Marquette moved into second, one - half game behind Milwaukee Pius.

Elsewhere it was more serene.

Lincoln Hits 103
Milwaukee Lincoln, (13 - 1) ranked No. 1 among the major schools, topped the 100 - point plateau for the 10th time this season, crushing Milwaukee Tech 103-58 behind a 31 - point performance by Clarence Sherrod.

Monroe, (14-1), ranked second, clinched the Badger Conference title with a 73-64 win over Middleton.

Alma, the top - ranked small school, whipped Gilmanton 82 - 62.

The Rivermen, (15 - 0) were one of the state's seven unbeaten teams to play Friday night. All won, although unranked Barron (13-0) had to go into overtime to beat Bloomer, 76 - 67.

and unranked Ellsworth (11 - 0) just got by Hudson 55-53.

Platteville (15-0), the only unbeaten among the ranked big schools, protected its No. 6 standing by choking off Dodgeville 64-60 behind Jim Lawinger's 27 points.

Wausaukee (16-0) got 30 points from Dave Busick and downed Lena 85-31 for its 27th M-O Conference win in a row. Wausaukee is ranked third in the "Little Ten."

Tenth - ranked small school Wabeno (14 - 0) whipped Eagle River 91-71 as Bernie Schwartz scored 36 points.

The night's major upset was in the Fox Valley. South pulled it off through a great effort by Steve Fisher, who scored all six of South's points in the overtime and 12 in a final period that ended with the score 68-68. Fisher finished with 32 for the night.

Canned pears add their tender sweetness to this unusual baked chicken. Lightly browned pieces of chicken are baked with mushrooms in a pungent Lime Sauce. The canned pears are added later and baked just enough to heat through and absorb the flavor of the spices. Two All-American favorites, chicken and pears, team up beautifully in this exciting dish.

It used to be that Chicken Digan was an exclusive restaurant specialty, expensive to make and too time-consuming for everyday use. With the advent of commercially frozen foods every good cook knows she can have this wonderful dish today as easily as she can prepare hamburgers. ## Notch 76-62 Decision

Blugolds Deal WSU-O First League Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eau Claire basketball players, producing the best kind of cheerful news for an ailing coach, shattered the Oshkosh charm Friday night while prolonging the State University Conference's fourth-place deadlock.

The Blugolds handed league-leading Oshkosh its first conference loss of the season although their coach, Bill Zorn, was absent with a case of stomach illness.

Victories by Eau Claire and Superior left the pair tied for fourth as Platteville dropped from a three-way tie.

Reserve Dennis Fandel gave five points to an Eau Claire seven-point surge in the third quarter to move the Blugolds toward their 73-62 victory. The outburst started from a 33-33 intermission tie.

Stan Johnson, racing Superior's Jim Sevals for conference scoring honors, had 27 points for Eau Claire. Ron Hayek, close behind the Johnson-Sevals contest, scored 26 points for Oshkosh.

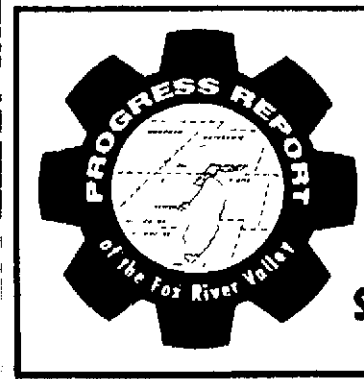

Stevens Point fell to Stout 65-64 as the Blue Devils held off a Pointer rally in preparation for tonight's potential title showdown with Oshkosh.

Sevals, scoring 25 points—one short of his game average this season, saved Superior's 71-68 victory by stealing the ball from Platteville with 13 seconds left and Platteville only one point behind.

He was fouled, and nestled two free throws to secure the decision.

Whitewater, having tumbled into the conference cellar, climbed over River Falls 97-83 to get back into eighth spot.

The Warhawks ended a seven-game losing streak "they pulled 42-41 at intermission but trailed away led by Bill Clerkin who tallied 26 points.

UW President Asks Support of Regents

Harrington Wants Hands Free for Campus Opening Negotiations

MILWAUKEE — University President Fred Harrington said Friday the institution hopes to open its new Green Bay campus in 1969, but asked his board of regents not to tie his hands and make that the formal UW policy position. "There is much negotiation before us," he said to Regent Bernard Zeigler, West Bend, in asking that the UW administration be allowed to formulate its own path, and choose between opening a smaller campus than hoped for, and delaying all campus development.

Two Injured In Separate Accidents

Two persons were injured, one seriously enough to require hospitalization, in separate accidents on Outagamie County roads Friday.

Thomas A. Nedda, 27, route 3, Pulaski, suffered two broken legs and other injuries about noon when his car left County Trunk C at Center Valley Road and struck a utility pole.

Nedda was taken to a Green Bay hospital by ambulance, according to Outagamie County police. The Pulaski man's 1966 station wagon reportedly went out of control on a curve, went onto the shoulder, into a ditch and crossed the road, where it hit the pole. The car sustained about $1,500 damage, police said.

Dennis Beyer, 24, Black Creek, suffered a bump on the head when his car ran into the rear of a car driven by Gerald N. Voeks, 22, route 2, Black Creek. The accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. Friday on County Trunk A, just north of O. Both cars were northbound on A at the time of the accident, police said. Damage was to the front of the Beyer car and the rear of the Voeks vehicle.

Woman Pays $50 For Conduct in Appleton Tavern

Mrs. Charlotte Schroeder, 22, 2518 Heather Ave., who police said refused to leave The Pub, a tavern at 523 W. Wisconsin Ave., early Friday morning, was fined $50 and costs or 24 days in jail after she pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct.

Appleton police, who were called to the tavern at 1:05 a.m., said that Mrs. Schroeder locked herself in a rest room and came out only after the bartender unlocked the door. She was told to leave several times and when she refused, three policemen placed her in a squad car.

The woman reportedly tore the buttons from the coat of one patrolman and another patrolman suffered a small cut on his right hand. She was placed in jail until her appearance this morning in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

dangerous weapon. You wouldn't make that mistake if he waved a gun. Apply that principle when you play bridge.

West opened the five of clubs, and South tried a foolish finesse. East won with the king of clubs, and returned the six of clubs.

West ruffed and led a spade to the ace. East led another club, and West's second ruff defeated the contract two tricks.

South should have recognized the opening lead as a dangerous weapon. It couldn't be anything but a singleton, and South had every reason to believe that a finesse would be fatal.

Put Up Ace

The correct play is to put up the ace of clubs, cash the ace of diamonds and then draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. If the queen of trumps does not drop, South plans to discard dummy's spades on the king and queen of diamonds. He can then lead a club and let the opponents take one club and one trump.

As it happens, the queen of trumps does fall. Now South can afford to draw the last missing trump. He then leads a club and allows the opponents to take one club and the ace of spades.

The contract is safe provided that South has the good sense to recognize danger when he sees it.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S 8 7 5 3 2, H Q 2, D J 10 9 8 6, C 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades. You would like to jump to four spades because of your good distribution, but your hand is too weak for so high a bid.

Change a low spade or diamond to the king, and your hand would be strong enough for a jump to four spades.

Trial Set on Abduction Of Black Creek Girl

Marvin Barth, 27, Appleton, Bound Over To Circuit Court After Preliminary Hearing

Marvin Barth, 27, 721 N. Morrison St., charged with abducting a girl who he at one time was engaged to marry, was bound over to Circuit Court Friday afternoon following a preliminary hearing in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Barth, charged following investigation by Outagamie County authorities, was returned to jail in lieu of posting $3,000 bond. No date was set for the Circuit Court appearance.

Only two witnesses were heard during Friday's preliminary. They were the 18-year-old girl whom he is accused of abducting the evening of Dec. 31 — Rachel LaFonde, route 2, Black Creek — and her friend, Patricia Pennings, also of route 2, Black Creek.

Both witnesses were called by Richard Hamilton, assistant Outagamie County district attorney.

Pried Open Window
Miss LaFonde, a high school student, said she had known Barth about a year and a half. She testified that on the evening of Dec. 31, she was in a car driven by Patricia Pennings when Barth ran into their vehicle between the LaFonde home and 12 Corners Road.

Miss LaFonde stated that when she refused to unlock the doors of the Pennings car, after Barth said he wanted to talk to her, the Appleton man got a tire iron from his auto and pried open her vent window.

During cross examination by Barth's court-appointed attorney, Miss LaFonde testified she had received an engagement ring from Barth, but had returned it about 10 days ago. She said she had not considered herself engaged to him for some

Plan Funds Assured From FFA

ANTIGO — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R - Marshfield, assured community leaders from the northeastern Wisconsin that the $120,500 comprehensive planning funds for sewer and water facilities for the Wolf River Basin Regional Commission would be coming from the Farmers Home Administration in July.

Laird spoke at a noon luncheon here Friday.

The Wolf commission adopted recommendations to be presented to the federal Public Land Law Review Commission in March.

It called for legislation to increase federal revenue sharing to local governments in the Great Lakes region.

In particular it asked the government to pay an amount equal to the present tax rate on newly acquired public lands for a period of 10 years and then revert back to a system of 25 per cent revenue sharing or 35 cents per acre whichever is greater.

Conley is one of many experts brought in each year to present students with accurate information in specific areas. The social problems class is currently studying unions, labor-management negotiations, strikes and the role of a mediator in negotiations.

Conley said she feared him because "he has a temper" and was afraid "he would get violent." She said she also feared him "because of something that happened some time ago."

She said she had asked Barth several times to let her out of the car but he refused.

At one point during Miss LaFonde's testimony, Judge Gustave J. Keller rapped his gavel when Barth began laughing. Judge Keller told Barth, "This is no laughing matter."

Barth's attorney, in moving for a dismissal of the felony charge, pointed out that Miss LaFonde spent about five hours in the car and that no threats, had been made by Barth. The attorney termed the incident "a lover's spat." He said that, although an offense may have been committed, he did not believe it warranted the filing of an abduction charge.

Feared Her Safety
Hamilton, on rebuttal, said, "Miss LaFonde was 'afraid for her safety.'"

County police also charged Barth with failing to stop after an accident, in connection with the mishap involving the Pennings car. Judge Keller set April 5 for trial on that charge after Barth pleaded innocent.

Brillion Still Faces School Space Problem

Board to Consider Alternatives at Monday Meeting

BRILLION — The problem of "What to do Next?" faces the board of education when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

A discussion concerning further steps to be taken to alleviate crowded classroom conditions is expected. There also will be discussion about the merger of the Stockbridge-Hilbert and Brillion school districts.

The majority of district residents who attended a meeting last week were against such a move.

The home and 75 by 50 foot parcel of land adjacent to the present school were purchased last week for $10,000 by the school district. The house will be vacated Tuesday, and the board must decide whether to rent it until next August, when it probably will be used for classroom space.

Teachers' salary schedule discussions also are on the agenda.

NLRB Okays

P-C Union

Craftsman's Certified As Bargaining Agent For Composing Unit

The Post-Crescent Craftsman's Union has been certified as bargaining agent for a composing room unit of 66 employees at the Appleton-based daily and Sunday Post-Crescent newspaper.

Certification was made by the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

On Dec. 22, 1966 the Craftsman's Union, an independent, won a representation election over the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America, AFL-CIO.

The pressmen's union subsequently filed an unfair labor practice charge, which the NLRB ruled recently lacked sufficient evidence to warrant a complaint, and dismissed the action against the newspaper.

With the NLRB finalizing its certification of the Post-Crescent Craftsman's Union, contract negotiations now are being resumed.

The Post-Crescent is a subsidiary of the Post Corporation of Appleton, which also is negotiating contracts with international unions representing two other work units.

Eight on 'A' Honor Roll

WITTENBERG — Eight students, seven of them seniors, have been named to the high school "A" honor roll for the first semester.

They are Becky Anderson, Joan Cherek, Darlene Gagnon, Carol Garski, Rhonda Kroening, Richard Marsh and Judy Young, seniors, and Jean Wendler, a junior.

Attorney General Ruling

If Waupaca-Weyauwega Merge, District Can be Unified Type

WAUPACA — If the Waupaca and Weyauwega school districts merge, the new district will be under a unified plan, with area representation on a nine-man board of education.

During earlier discussions on what type of district could be created, a common or unified, it was ruled that it would be unlawful to have a unified district with area representation on the board of education that would be elected at large.

However, before the type of district was inserted in the order that would create a new district, Leon Case, Stevens Point, coordinator of Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) No. 7, contacted the state attorney general's office and obtained an opinion that it would be legal to have a unified district with area representation.

Case said Friday, not only will the words "unified district" be in the order creating the merged district, but also, a list of areas from which board of education members would come from, and the number of members from each of the areas.

Divide Districts

At an earlier meeting the combined districts were divided into areas according to population. There also was a list of how many members of the board should represent each area.

The district areas which will be included in the order are: The Village of Fremont, Towns of Fremont and Wolf River which have a combined population of 1,699 and will be represented by one board member; Towns of Bloomfield, Saxeville

Federal Grant Assured for Kaukauna Sewage Facility

Byrnes Announces $71,070 Fund From Pollution Control Agency

KAUKAUNA—A federal grant of $71,070 to help finance the building of a sewage plant has been approved by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration of the Department of the Interior, according to an announcement Thursday by Eighth Dist. Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay.

The city received an order in 1957 from the state to build a new sewage facility by 1964. When preliminary work on the construction was started the city received an extension of one year.

In 1965 the city floated a $500,000 bond issue and made application for federal aid of $250,000 to meet estimated cost of the project.

The city was notified that several communities were ahead of it in priority listing for federal aid. Late in 1965, Mayor Gilbert Anderson and City Atty. Donald Green met with representatives of the state pollution committee and informed them work could not be started unless aid was assured.

Proceed With Work

The state then informed city officials that 10 per cent of the total grant would be given them from the 1966 allotment and the remaining 20 per cent would likely be forthcoming in 1967.

Mayor Anderson indicated that the city now has $570,000 through investing money from the bond issue and with the federal grant will now be able to proceed with construction.

Donahue Engineering Co., Sheboygan, designers of the new system, will be notified to advertise for bids for the start of construction. Bidding may be let in stages to insure receiving the balance of the federal aid. A special meeting of the Kaukauna council has been called for 7 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the project with the engineering firm.

Anderson expressed hope that the project will get underway early this spring. The secondary treatment plant will be built on the same site as the existing facility.

Official Observer

Waupaca Names Weather Watcher

WAUPACA — The city has a new weather watcher.

Gene Sorensen, superintendent, sanitation department has been named the official weather observer, will keep a daily record of the high and low temperatures and the amount of precipitation.

Sorensen replaces the late Walter Rowland who served as the U. S. Weather Bureau observer here for 37 years.

Temperature and precipitation instruments have been moved to near the sewage treatment plant. A daily check is made at 4 p.m. for the high and low temperature and the amount of rain or snow during the previous 24 hour period.

In addition to measuring the snow depth it is melted to

The state agency will consider the request without holding a public hearing.

Doubt, Optimism Surround Future of Oshkosh Airport

Washington Aviation Attorney Doubts North Central's Ability To Maintain Present Services

BY DON CASTONIA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Robert Lester, veteran aviation attorney and former member of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), now retained in Washington by the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce, expressed serious doubts that present levels of air service to Winnebago County could be maintained by North Central Airlines with the advent of jet airline service.

Speaking on possible trends affecting Fox Valley aviation, Lester stressed that Oshkosh was not a focal point for North Central service. In the northern half of Wisconsin service is concentrated through Green Bay—partly by historical accident, he said.

He noted the CAB is now in the process of considering major policy changes because of tremendous public pressure to reduce subsidies paid to airlines. This could force airlines such as North Central to "overfly" some intermediate points on their routes, according to Lester.

Service Question

While the regional airport controversy between Appleton and Oshkosh no longer exists, Lester said, the new question is "will the Fox Valley be served by two airports (Oshkosh and Green Bay) or one airport (Green Bay)."

"Unless this area develops sufficient traffic, it seems clear the trend will be for service to be concentrated at Green Bay," he warned.

"You must proceed quickly or I see the day coming when the nearest air service will be either at Green Bay or Milwaukee. Either you or Green Bay will suffer and it more likely will be you," he stated.

Here to Stay

In terms of third level air service, such as Air Wisconsin, Lester said the CAB has apparently determined that a taxi service is here to stay and it appears the CAB is encouraging third level air lines to develop in the smaller markets.

One of the problems faced in the aviation industry is the rapid change in type of equipment, Lester pointed out. He said Air Wisconsin was doing many "imaginative things" and the use of the turbo-prop airplane by air taxi lines was something unknown a short time ago. Mid-State Air Carrier, which operates between Fond du Lac and Chicago, also is purchasing turbo-prop planes.

He also cited the problem of heavy congestion at O'Hare Field in Chicago, which he termed the "worst airport in the world" in terms of congestion. This, he said, considerably hinders North Central Airlines.

In the east, many local carriers have built up profitable business by bypassing the New York airports and flying directly from other New England points to Washington and Philadelphia. However, he said, North Central does not have CAB authority to bypass Chicago's O'Hare Field.

New London High Plans Tour of Washington, D.C.

NEW LONDON — Sixty-six students have registered for the annual senior high school social studies department tour of Washington, D.C., and New York City, May 1-5.

Lawrence Graves, chaperone, said students would travel by airplane for the second straight year. It is the ninth tour sponsored by the social studies department.

North Central Director Vows Jet Service

Guarantees Flights This Fall; Promises 10 Daily by 1968

OSHKOSH — Dave Moran, director of traffic and sales for North Central Airlines, Thursday night guaranteed Winnebago County would be served by jet airlines by this fall and that in the summer of 1968 there would be 10 jet flights daily out of the county airport.

In addition, Moran who did not project North Central's plans beyond 1968, guaranteed there would be no reduction in total service at Oshkosh.

Moran outlined the future plans for North Central service at Oshkosh before a dinner audience of about 60 Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Ripon and Berlin officials, invited by the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce.

Rebutals Story

Using the occasion to rebut a story which appeared in The Post-Crescent Jan. 29, Moran said the number of daily flights at the Winnebago County Airport would be increased from 17 to 19 this summer and that number would remain the same after the inauguration of jet service.

He said the number of passenger seats available daily from Oshkosh would increase from the present 800 to 900 this summer and 1,400 in the summer of 1968. "This represents a 75 per cent increase in 18 months," Moran said. He said North Central would continue commuter-type flights between Oshkosh, Milwaukee and Chicago.

Moran added that the first jet flights involving Oshkosh would be on a Chicago-Oshkosh-Minneapolis route with other intermediate points.

Moran said there was not enough traffic between Oshkosh and Detroit to justify direct flights. The same was true for flights to Madison. The North Central official said they are now investigating direct flights between Milwaukee and Detroit said students would travel by airplane for the second straight year. It is the ninth tour sponsored by the social studies department.

Shiocton Supports Upping Spice's Pay

Board Feels Official's Service Should be Considered by County

SHIOCTON — Raising the salary of Outagamie County Undersheriff Calvin Spice gained unanimous support from the village board Wednesday.

A poll of the board showed all members were opposed to the manner in which Spice's appointment as undersheriff was handled by the Outagamie County executive committee.

Letters will be sent to Spice and to the county law enforcement committee stating the board's position in the dispute. Clerk Earl W. Kuether, said the board favored a reconsideration of the salary dispute involving Spice. "The board felt that Spice's 20 years of service as a law enforcement officer should be considered in establishing his pay rate," Kuether said.

Lowest Step

Spice's wage was set at the lowest step possible in pay grade 19 when he was named undersheriff. The executive committee set Spice's pay after ruling that by quitting the county patrol to become sheriff four years ago, he severed his employment with the county and should start as undersheriff as a new employee.

The matter is being openly debated by members of the county board, but no decision has been made.

A plan for improving street lighting facilities was presented by Parker Schultz, representative of Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co., Appleton.

Schultz's report was on a recent survey conducted by the company on the village's lighting system. The plan is to replace the incandescent lighting with mercury vapor lights.

113 Lights

Installation of 113 mercury vapor lights to replace the 54 incandescent lights in operation was suggested. Cost of the new lighting would be $7,800 annually compared to the present $2,800.

Schultz said, "although the cost will be 2.7 times as great, the amount of candle power will be increased nine times." No charge will be made for converting to mercury vapor, and the only cost to the village will be for power consumed in street lighting, he said.

Conversion to mercury vapor lighting was held over for further study by the board.

Waupaca Opens New Dog Pound

Modern Facilities Include Five Pens in Concrete Block Building

WAUPACA — New and larger city dog pound facilities have been completed and are now in use.

The new dog pound near the sewage treatment plant replaces the old pound behind the city shops on Water Street.

The 8 by 20-foot concrete block building, has five pens. The building is heated and has been designed for easy cleaning and handling of dogs.

Gene Sorensen, sanitation department superintendent, who has charge of the new pound said of the facility, "it is like moving from a cave to a palace."

Dogs running loose in the city are picked up by police and taken to the pound where they are held for five days. If the dog is not claimed within the five day period it is destroyed, Sorensen said. "Many fine dogs are brought to the pound and if they are not claimed by the owners they are given to anyone who wants a dog," Sorensen said.

The only cost is 50 cents for each day the dog is held. Persons claiming their own dogs are charged the same fee.

With the new facility dogs being held in the pound will be given better care. Plans are being made to install some outdoor runs next summer, Sorensen said.

Anyone looking for a dog has been asked to call the sewage treatment plant or come to the pound. Persons who have lost a dog have been asked to check with the pound within a 24-hour period and reclaim their pet or it may be given away, Sorensen said.

Neenah Firm Furnished Free Bar Equipment

WAUPACA — Baer's Beverage, Inc., 754 Airport Rd., Neenah, has been charged with two counts of furnishing equipment to a New London tavern without cost.

A representative of the firm entered a plea of not guilty to the charge in Waupaca Municipal Justice Court, Thursday, and the case was bound over to County Court for trial. Charges against the firm were brought by the State Beverage and Tax Division.

The state is charging that the Neenah Beverage Co. allegedly furnished a used ice cube machine to a New London tavern operated by David O. Roberts. Under Wisconsin statutes it is unlawful for a beverage company to furnish, free of charge any tavern equipment.

French Ecumenicists Agree on Lord's Prayer

DETROIT (AP) — The two Lutheran denominations in France and the four leading Orthodox prelates in France. As translated by Father Tardard.

"Our Father, who are in heaven, may your name be sanctified, may your kingdom come, may your will be done on earth as in heaven."

"Today give us our bread for this day. Forgive us our offenses, as we also forgive those who have offended us. And do not test us through temptation, but deliver us from evil."

Ward said he believes this to be the first appearance in the English language of an ecumenical version of the Lord's Prayer.

"As far as I can tell," said Ward, "there is no other ecumenical — or jointly prepared — Lord's Prayer in English."

Ward said differences over the wording of the Lord's Prayer vary in most American religions.

"Some Protestants pray, 'Forgive us our debts,' others, 'Forgive us our trespasses,'" said Ward.

"The King James Version (1611) says 'in earth,' but the Revised Standard Version (1946) says 'on earth,' as did the English Revised Version (1881) and the American Standard (1901)," he said.

"Some say 'which is in heaven' others, 'who are in heaven,' and looking at the Greek you find in the literal syntax that the prayer says 'who is or art in heavens' (plural)."

Ward said: "Protestants and Orthodox pray the longer version, which has the final doxology: 'for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever.' But none of the early major Greek manuscripts has this final ending, and all the new Protestant translations leave it out and put it in the footnote."

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Marion E. Wade, founder and chairman of a multi-million dollar moth proofing and rug dry cleaning organization, says his company's success is built on the Bible—not a book to be read only on Sundays, but a book that can guide a man to success in life and in business.

He became a witness to God over 20 years ago after an accident in which he nearly lost his sight. While recuperating he read from the Book of Joshua:

"This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night; that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success."

Mr. Wade heeded these words and built a business that he considers a ministry by which he glorifies God.

"The executive who calls himself a Christian is obliged to conduct his business in a Christian way or he is not a Christian," he says.

Holy Cross Meeting Catechetics Aired by Catholic School Panel

KAUKAUNA — "We are living stresses God's love to us. A child in an age of secularism is taught to see through where the work of the church his daily life that God loves him. is carried out through catechetical and learns to respond to God's love and the liturgy," said Sister Valerie, principal of Holy Cross Catholic School, during a panel discussion of modern catechetics at the Holy Cross Bible Home-School meeting Tuesday.

Fourth graders acted out psalms as done in intermediate grades and Sister Valerie demonstrated use of prayer songs. Plans were made for the TB skin testing program Feb. 22, and information consisting of results of the membership question and answer learning drive were revealed and classed from a catechism, second was rooms taught by Sister Bernadette, period of formation with Sister Michael, Sister Josephine on living a Catholic life and we are now in the third had 100 per cent enrollment. "To teach a child, we must know his child learns," she declared. "Emotion is stronger than intellect in a young child. To reach a child's will, we must work through his emotions," she noted.

Progress Aided

"A child's spiritual progress can be aided by the environment in the home," said Mrs. Francis Grogan, fifth grade teacher. She indicated the ages from 12 involves teaching the child to be a more active member of the church and to make him more aware of his responsibility. "Fifth graders are leaving childhood and becoming interested in the adult world. His topic will be 'Peace is individual.' The child makes prayer individual."

We talk about it, plan for it, and hope it will come into our lives.

But, are we willing to work for peace in our own hearts — where real peace must be won?

Christian Science teaches that a healing, satisfying peace can be found if we are willing to find for ourselves the spiritual peace that comes from God.

The Cost of Postage Stamps

Again the chronic United States postal deficit is worrying Washington, and the perennial proposal for a rise in postal rates is being heard. The plan is to ask for congressional authorization of increases in the charges for first, second, third and some of the fourth class mail. For regular first class and air mail letters and postcards, the planned increase is one cent each, putting the price of a first class letter at six cents and of an air mail letter at nine cents.

These developments require some responses that are difficult to express. There is no group of our own acquaintance that is so aware of the diligence and faithfulness and energy and loyalty of the postal service career employees as are newspaper people in general. What we have to say has no relation to the post office personnel on the whole, which we are confident is as proud and hard-working a force as the United States government civil service contains.

Most of them are aware of the steadily declining confidence of the public, however, in the postal service as an institution. Something is wrong in a governmental department that is unable to deliver the mails as efficiently in 1967 as it did 30 or 40 years earlier, and especially with the enormous advances in transportation and other facilities involved during the last several generations.

Travelers abroad contrast the delays and the uncertainties of the United States domestic mail service with the smooth efficiency of mail handling and carriage in countries of modest economic bases. Almost everybody we know has some favorite illustration of the inability of our postal service to perform adequately. Not the least of these is one of our own correspondents, who during the last several years has been required to use special delivery stamps for reasonably certain delivery of his letters to this office which is only a few hours removed from his station. A reasonably healthy man could deliver the dispatches on a bicycle in less time than the post office requires. The special delivery stamp doesn't create additional vehicles to carry the mail. It is affixed in the hope of attracting the attention, on the dispatching and receiving ends, that in grandfather's time a simple first class stamp commanded without exception.

From the 1880's when the national postal system was integrated on a plan resembling that which functions today, until 1944, a first class letter anywhere in this country required a two-cent stamp. Since that time the charges have risen steadily, to three cents in 1944, to four cents in 1959, and in 1963, to five cents. We must assume that the proposed upward revisions now advanced in Washington will be approved. We won't object, if there is any assurance of more reliable service. But after many disappointing years, we join millions of other Americans in confessing skepticism. Only a radical reorganization of the massive postal system can bring us a mail service corresponding to our rank in the modern world. And that does not appear to be in sight.

Enter and Exit Rockwell

The entire community, academic and civic, is to be complimented on the dignified calmness with which it accepted the visit of George Rockwell this week. We omit his middle name, Lincoln. The parents who gave it to this misfit unknowingly insulted the American people.

Rockwell came here as an invited guest, and he was treated as such. And regardless of differences in opinion whether he should have been invited in the first place, he was accorded an opportunity to speak. The Lawrence Administration upheld

The Brain Drain Grows

There is new evidence that the "brain drain" of educated people desperately needed in the underdeveloped countries is expanding.

About two thirds of the 100,000 foreign students studying in the United States come from the poorer nations of Latin America, Asia and Africa. Many are the recipients of aid either from their own governments or through various American programs. A survey conducted by the Institute of International Education last year showed that more than 10 per cent intend to remain in the United States after they complete their studies.

But other statistics indicate that the percentage of those who do remain is much higher. Figures of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service show that 30 per cent of Asians here on temporary student visas later apply for permanent ones. Of the 905 foreign students at the University of Iowa between 1950 and 1960, almost 500 stayed in the United States. Officials in Iran say that 60 per cent of their students make up their minds to stay away from their homeland. The Educational Council of Foreign Medical Graduates estimates that up to 25 per cent of foreign doctors in training here will stay its long tradition of academic freedom in backing up the student body's right to hear Rockwell's opinions, and the students proved worthy of the administration's trust by hearing him out and evaluating his message of hate for just what it was. Meanwhile the rest of the community went about its business and let Rockwell enter and exit peacefully.

But he was one visitor to the community to whom we do not extend our usual farewell of "Good luck and come back again."

The problem is somewhat increased by the changes in the United States immigration policy. The changes were aimed at getting away from the national origins percentages whereby residents of northern Europe had far larger quotas for immigration to this country than people from other parts of the world. But the new policy stresses skills and vocations which are in short supply in this country. We can use more medical people, high level educators and similarly highly trained personnel. But the underdeveloped countries need them desperately.

It is not only the higher standard of living in America that persuades so many foreign students to change their national allegiances. The same factor that brought widespread immigration in the last century—oppression at home—is a major reason.

It is not a simple problem to solve even by restrictions that refuse permanent visas to students from nations which need them at home. The new citizens, like the waves of immigrants from a variety of countries in the 19th Century, are healthy for the United States. We need their ideas and their very difference. But each one who stays is a greater loss to his own land and the opportunities to improve living standards there.

Says Editor Questioned FBI Head's Integrity

Editor, Post-Crescent

RE Editorial, Friday Jan 27 concerning Consular Treaty titled "Hoover Sabotages Rusk"

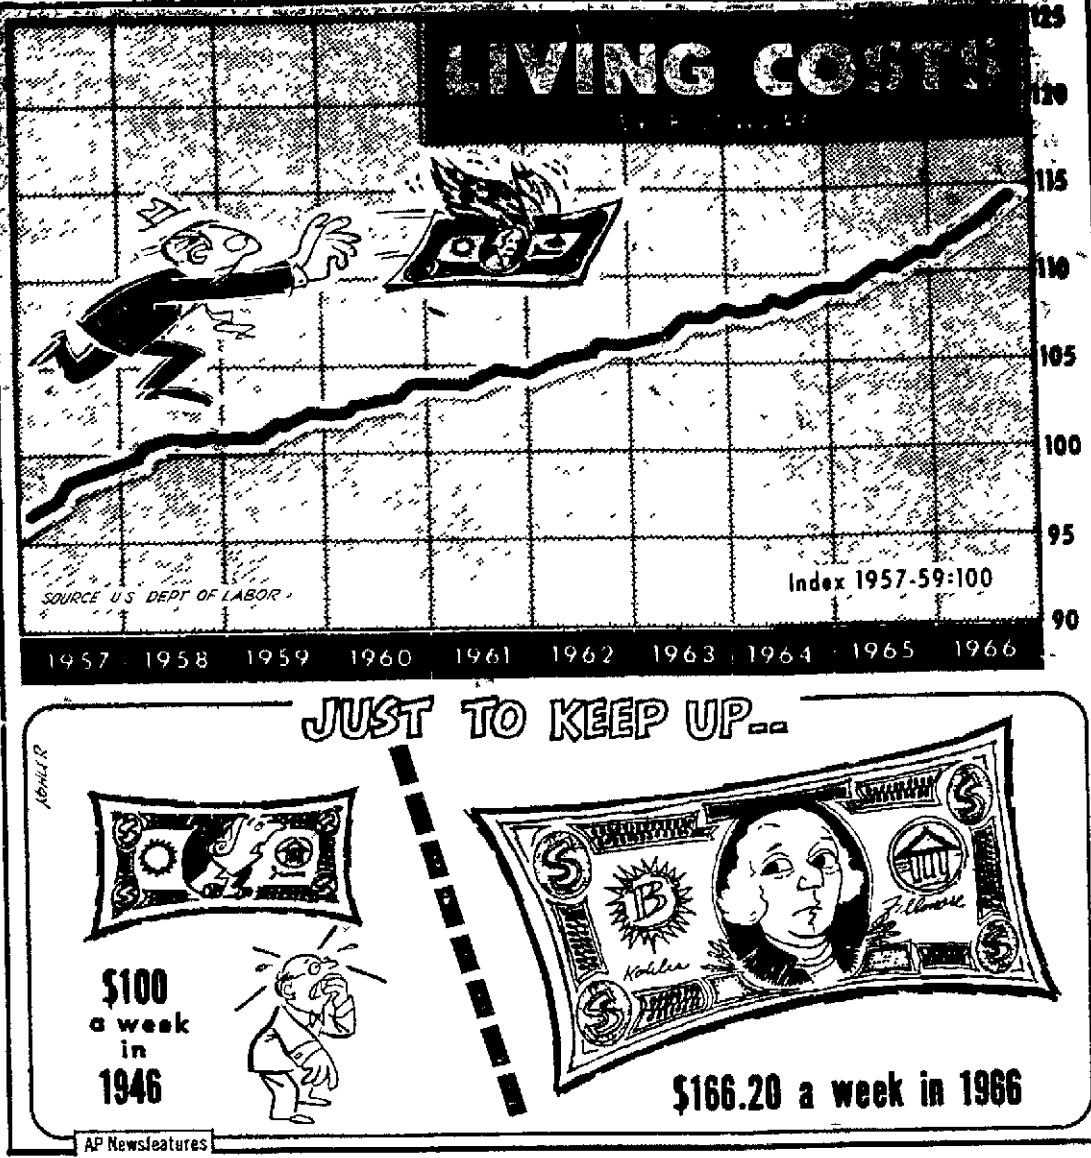

I would like to start by saying that your insinuation of one of America's greatest men as sabotaging the U.S. Secretary of State is indeed in poor taste. Having read this editorial through several times it is very clear that you have implied to your readers that Mr. J. Edgar Hoover is some kind of authority that speaks out of both sides of his mouth at the same time. Mr. Hoover's integrity is beyond reproach in the duties of his country. Washington, D.C. could stand many many more men of this caliber.

You state in the first paragraph of the above mentioned editorial that "Sec. Rusk is earnestly backing the treaty as in the best interests of the United States" and "he is being undermined by the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation." Now if one analyzes this statement it implies that Mr. Hoover is doing something very underhanded to our State Dept., who is looking out for the best interests of all of us citizens. Let me say here and now that Mr. J. Edgar Hoover has been fighting the Communist conspiracy in this country long before Mr. Rusk realized it was a threat. It is a fact that Mr. Hoover testified on March 4, 1965 before the House Appropriations Committee saying that the Consular Treaty would be "a cherished goal for the Soviet intelligence services." Recently, his testimony quoted in the above editorial, seems to present a technicality as to whether Mr. Hoover's testimony was an opinion and recommendation in its context or a mere stating of the facts presented to him through the years of his confrontation with the Communist conspiracy. I would like to think of this testimony as a mere presentation of the facts and with no intention of sabotaging the Secretary of State Mr. Hoover is quoted in your editorial as saying that his department "is not recommending a course of action or expressing an opinion." Going further you then state that Mr. Hoover went on to corroborate testimony he made almost two years ago about the treaty. "The simple fact is that the work of the FBI in combating Soviet-directed espionage activities in this country has increased through the years commensurate with the increase in Soviet representation here. I can also state without equivocation that Communist-bloc diplomatic establishments in this country serve as focal points for intelligence operations." This testimony is definitely not an opinion or recommendation but a mere statement of fact. How this testimony can cause one to insinuate that Mr. Hoover is doing some backstabbing of the Secretary of State is beyond me. You state that Mr. Hoover's disclaimer about opinions and recommendations was misleading and unnecessary. How can you arrive at the conclusion that this testimony is misleading and unnecessary when it comes from probably the most authoritative man on the subject? Mr. Hoover's testimony should be headed by every member of the United States Congress and the President himself.

You have then stated that "On its merits the treaty appears to be a reasonable one." Reasonable for who? The Consular Treaty does not call for "probably one more consulate in this country" but rather the treaty proposes four such consulates in this country and one in Soviet Russia. Consulates are to be located in New York, Detroit, Chicago and Los Angeles and we are asking for one in Leningrad. A typical Communist fair deal four for one! It is a well known fact that the Russian Embassy or Consulate is nothing more than a haven for their spies and saboteurs. Yet we are willing to give them more protection for their conspiracy if we are to allow this Consular Treaty to pass our U.S. Senate. You finally go on to say that there should be no opposition to rat-

Living Costs--Ever Up

BY NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living has soared 66 2 per cent since the end of World War II and the dollar of 1946 is now worth only 60 2 cents.

Or to put it another way, the dollar has lost 39 8 cents in value over the past 21 years.

If you were earning $100 a week in 1946, you'd need $166 20 now just to have kept abreast of rising prices, as measured by the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index.

The index is based on the typical spending habits of city workers for food, housing, clothing, transportation, health care, personal services and recreation.

Annual Average
Averaged out over the years, the annual rise in living costs comes out to about 2 6 per cent, but actually it occurred in fits and starts.

From 1946 to 1947, after World War II wage and price lids came off, prices sky-rocketed more than 14 5 per cent in just one year, and another 7 8 per cent the following year.

Then things leveled off briefly until the first year of the Korean War, when prices jumped again sharply—8 per cent from 1950 to 1951 — until the government slapped on controls again.

The next high point came in 1957, when prices climbed 3 5 per cent, followed by another 2 8 per cent rise in 1958.

The nation then enjoyed some six years of relative price stability until costs climbed 1 7 per cent. Last year there was another jump of about 3 per cent, the biggest rise in a decade.

In all the years since the end of World War II, consumer prices dropped only twice —3 10 of 1 per cent in 1949 and 4 10 of 1 per cent in 1955.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which reports the living costs each month, has been using 1957-59 as the base of 100 since 1962, when it dropped the 1947-49 base that had gone into effect in 1953. Before that, price increases were figured on a 1935-39 base. But the amount of price hikes comes out the same no matter what base is used.

The dollar now is worth 87 3 cents in terms of the 1957-59 dollar and 71 2 cents in terms of 1947-49 purchasing power.

For those old enough, or nostalgic enough, the Bureau also still reports the value of the dollar in 1939 purchasing power—42 3 cents.

And while the government declines to predict future price trends, they are certain to continue defying the maxim "what goes up must come down." Living costs rarely do come down, and never for long.

Chance to Lend a Helping Hand

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Feb. 14, 1867.

The gods help those who help themselves, and men ought to do the same. And the best of help is that which enables the struggling to help themselves. We think there are two opportunities of this sort now open.

First, The Ladies at the college have a literary association called the Athena Society the purpose of which is the cultivation of literature by practice and mutual criticism and encouragement. Such a society, when well managed, is one of the best things about an institution of learning.

The members want to make their society room as pleasant as possible and as attractive as possible with furnishings. Their means are small, they need help, and they deserve it. So they are going to give a public literary entertainment Saturday evening of this week. Admittance will be 25 cents, and the proceeds will be used exclusively in furnishing the society room.

Secondly, The college chapel is sadly in need of new carpeting on the platform. It looks bare, desolate and repulsive. The faculty are not able to buy the carpet. The executive board have no means that can be put to such use.

Some days after the exercises of the Athena Society the students will give in the college chapel another public entertainment, whereat they will enact charades, dramas and tableaux.

Ladies and gentlemen both are to take part in this including some townsfolk. We do hope and urge that there be a generous turn-out for both of these occasions.

Wisconsin Reports

No Simple Answer To Apportionment Of Industrial Taxes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — When indignant urban mayors of Wisconsin denounce "tax islands" their major complaint usually is the circumstance that the location of a big public utility plant typically brings a conspicuously large tax return to the treasury of the municipal jurisdiction involved.

Wyngaard

It is not surprising that these men hotly pressed by constituents resentful about the merciless escalation of their local tax rates, are pushing for the arbitrary elimination of a distribution that appears to favor a handful of localities in a discriminatory way. There is very little that is new about their argument. The utility tax controversy has been waged for years. Some of the smaller rural towns of the state in a political context have become widely known in part because they have had to defend themselves so often from the jealous attacks of other communities on the utility tax question.

Yet the record of legislative indecision and hesitation on the question should suggest to the neutral onlooker that the issue is not quite as simple or clear as these militant mayors would make it appear.

YES, BUT QUESTIONS

Most students examining the question without prejudice will probably conclude that the utility tax apportionment law needs revision.

Some day, without much doubt, the legislature will decide to move, when the pressure becomes great enough and, perhaps, when the rural power in the lawmaking process that has already been eroded considerably is further weakened by the urbanization of the state's population and its political reorientation.

Yet there will be complications.

It may be that the mayors haven't done their home work, of that they do not choose to tell all they know about the background of the question. But the seemingly favored position of some towns in the utility tax distribution did not follow from deliberate discrimination of the legislature.

The utility tax is a "state tax" only in name. Originally utility properties were regarded as elements of the local tax base even as were the stores of the local merchants, the farms of the rural residents, or local factories and dwellings. The state took over the assessment of such complex properties not as a revenue gain for itself, but as an assurance of accurate and reliable and uniform assessment over the many local jurisdictions involved. Thus the revenue equivalent remained in the local treasuries.

If the state should today decide that the local assessor cannot competently measure the tax worth of a giant paper mill, or foundry, or machine tool factory, and substitute its own assessment services, it would be a parallel decision. Would the localities involved then accept the idea that the revenue potential of such property should be returned to the state for distribution over all of the taxing units of Wisconsin? It is unlikely.

CITY 'ISLANDS' ALSO

There is a persistent illusion, moreover, that the public utility taxes standing alone can cure the financing crisis of the cities. Yet if all of the revenue potential of those plants was distributed per capita over the entire map of Wisconsin, it would make only a small dent in the local tax budget. Some of those properties, moreover, are now located within the taxing boundaries of some of the cities making the issue. They would surely lose under any alternative plan, although it appears that some of them are not yet wholly aware of it.

The utility tax issue, even conceding its merits, is largely a convenient platform from which the mayors can popularize their frustrations and worries. At a meeting of eastern Wisconsin mayors the other day, the evident consensus was that the cities need unilateral annexation powers to repossess, in a manner of speaking, more important taxable values that have evaded their jurisdictions by crossing the boundaries into the suburbs. That position recognizes the ultimate realities of the problem.

New Laws Will Reduce Slaughter on Roads

Editor, Post-Crescent

At last, we have a good chance to stop some of the senseless slaughter on our Wisconsin highways. Gov. Knowles has carefully studied the problem and has made comprehensive recommendations to the state legislature. These proposals make good sense to me. They're tough, and they have to be. They deserve our support, and I want the governor to know that they have mine, right down the line. That definitely includes the provisions for "implied consent", reduction if the 15 criterion to 10, and the uniform 21 year age limit.

Just suppose that instead of over 1,000 people killed in Wisconsin highway accidents last year, only half that many had been destroyed in mysterious explosions of unknown cause!

Almost every day, somewhere in Wisconsin, another man or woman or child, or a whole family, suddenly and unexpectedly burned to death! One of our neighbors, perhaps our own son or daughter. Would we spare any personal inconvenience, any effort of government, any expense, until the unknown source of this horror was located and eliminated? And if this perilous source was finally discovered to be hydrogen gas, leaking from bottles of a very popular brand of ginger ale, what would we do about that?

Would we stand idly by and allow a powerful Ginger Ale Lobby to repeatedly defeat, or even to weaken, our efforts to protect ourselves and our children?

Praises Firemen for Prompt Action in Freeing Child

Editor Post-Crescent

After a good spanking and a stern lecture I'm sure that Barbara or any child in our family will think twice before trying to climb into a clothes chute again.

Barb came through her almost an hour ordeal none the worse for the wear all except for a torn shirt. I can't say the same for her mother or the neighbors at whose home it happened.

With calm, sure, and steady hands those four firemen worked all of their training showed through in the tones of their voices as they assured and reassured Barb that she soon would be out although it seemed like an eternity to me. Firemen are truly friends when in need of help. I've found that out not only at the time of this incident, but a friend forever to me when they showed their concern and called our home that evening to see how she was. I'm sure not just as a fireman would call but also as a good family man and a concerned parent, too. These men are truly human beings that should be commended.

ping of an agreement permitting travel between them without visas.

In Moscow, a Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman confirmed that starting Sunday Chinese citizens must have visas to enter the Soviet Union.

The Chinese accused the Russians of unilaterally breaking the agreement and retaliated by requiring Soviet citizens to obtain Chinese entry, exit and transit visas.

Radio Peking said revolutionary workers, peasants, soldiers and students attended the rally today, including the Chinese students who were said to have been injured by Soviet police during the incident in Moscow's Red Square last month.

Wall Posters

Other reports from Peking by Japanese newsmen, quoting wall posters, said Defense Minister Lin Piao has ordered all troops roving around the country in what is called "exchanges of experiences" on the cultural revolution, to return to their barracks by Feb. 20.

The order applied also to students of military schools, workers at plants turning out military supplies and other bodies connected with the army.

Lin's orders to troops to get back to their units was coupled with another Japanese report from Peking that the regular army had taken over all Chinese civil aviation facilities, including airports and the civil aviation institutes.

The report said the move was issued "to prepare for war" but did not indicate what was meant by the phrase.

There were these other developments:

"White Terror"

Peking wall posters Friday said "white terror" was spreading through Inner Mongolia, where soldiers beat up large numbers of Mao's followers.

Peking radio said anti-Maoists in Shanghai were still resisting the Mao line by engaging in speculation at food markets in an effort to throw the city's economy into confusion.

Chinese travelers arriving in Hong Kong said older and better trained Red Guards have been moved to Canton, possibly indicating Mao is about ready to seize control of Canton and Kwangtung Province.

Coed's Magazine Pose Was Too 'Indiscreet'

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Shapely Pamela Brewer was "indiscreet," the University of Florida ruled early today, when she posed nude for a photo featured in an off-campus magazine.

The university faculty discipline committee delayed announcing a penalty for the 18-year-old Springfield, Va., coed whose measurements are 38-25-38.

The committee heard several witnesses — all in favor of Pamela — in a tumultuous public hearing then, after a closed meeting, found she was guilty of "indiscreet and inappropriate conduct."

Pamela and her lawyer, Selig Goldin of Gainesville, said they thought the decision was "improper and not justified by the evidence and the law."

Uncle Sam to Claim Some of Profits From Adam Powell's Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of those recording profits which Adam Clayton Powell plans to use to pay off a court judgment apparently will go to Uncle Sam.

The Internal Revenue Service declined today to discuss Powell's case because of laws against disclosing individual income tax information.

But in response to an inquiry, it said any income from a performance is taxable even if the money is directed to another person.

Powell's recording, "Keep the Faith, Baby," went on sale Jan. 25 and the record company expects sales to reach 1 million copies. Powell gets 22 cents per record.

Three city fire trucks were at the scene, but a truck from Hortonville was called when the city's largest pumper developed trouble, Schafer said.

Bob and Mills Tavern, located directly on the Pearl Street and Wolf River Avenue corner, suffered only slight damage. The bowling lanes were east of the tavern and the den south of it. The buildings formed a single complex which covered about one-fourth of the block.

Schafer said the tavern, owned by Robert Waubschol, had extensive smoke damage and the south wall of the building was cracked from the heat.

Other nearby buildings were not threatened.

Jacob Le Noble said the building was partly covered by insurance. The Le Noble's purchased the bowling establishment last summer.

Make Your Own Four-Unit Piggy Bank Out of a Trough

BY CAPPY DICK

A four-unit piggy bank is a novel savings device that can encourage your thriftiness.

front of a feeding trough. Each is marked with the denomination of coin to be dropped into the slot in its bank. One-cent pieces go into one pig; nickels go into the next, dimes into the third and quarters into the fourth. When you drop one or more coins into one of the banks you have fed that pig for the day.

Figure 1 shows the piece of plywood that forms the base for the unit. The size of this base will depend upon the size of the piggy banks you intend to use and how much space they will require when placed in a row. Generally, small plastic pigs will be satisfactory for this project.

The feeding trough can be a slim cardboard box such as is used to hold candy mints. Glue the pigs and the trough to the base.

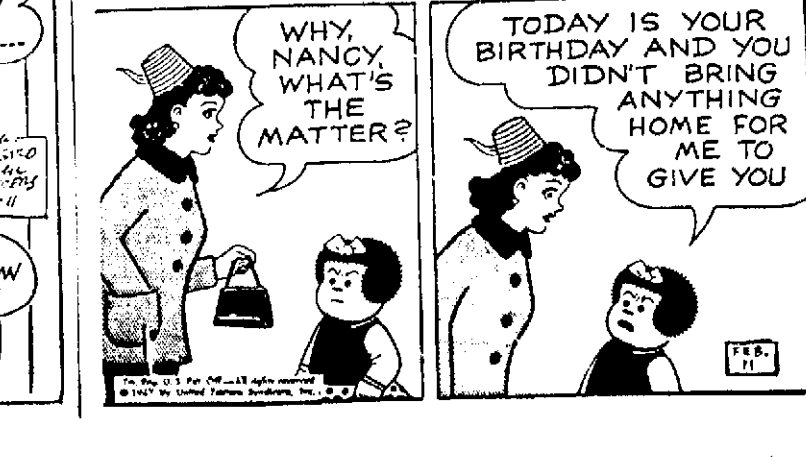

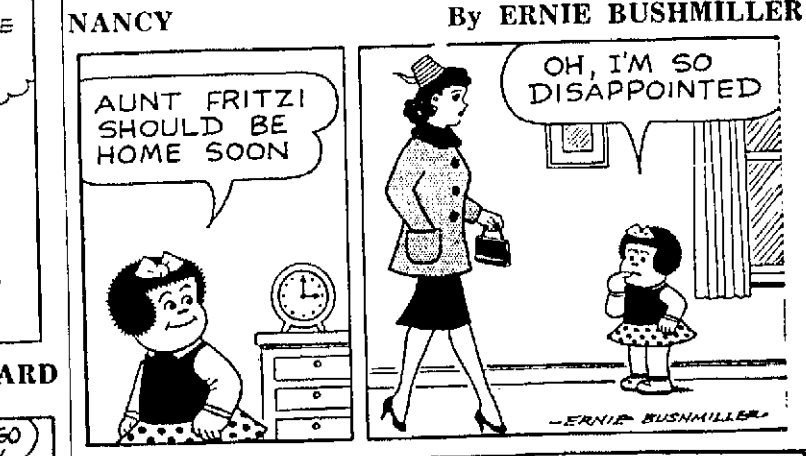

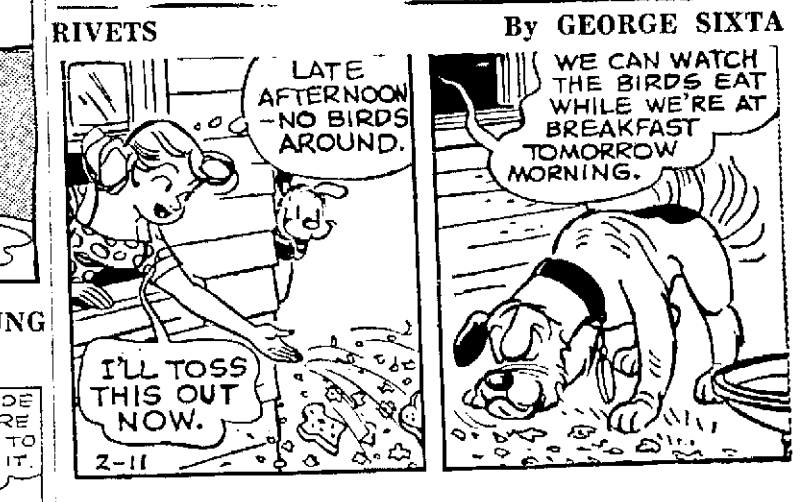

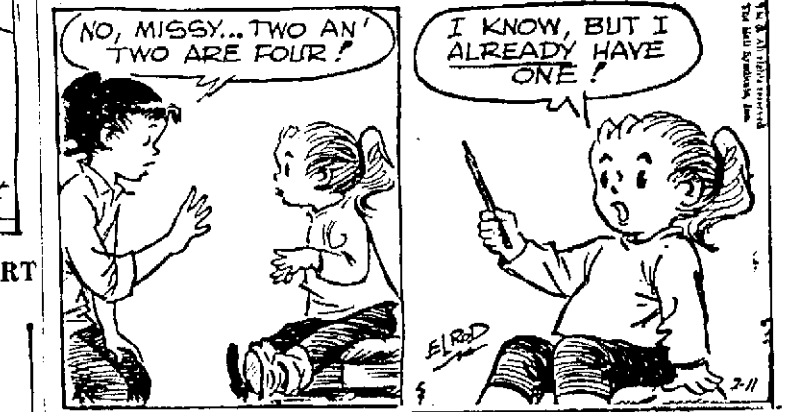

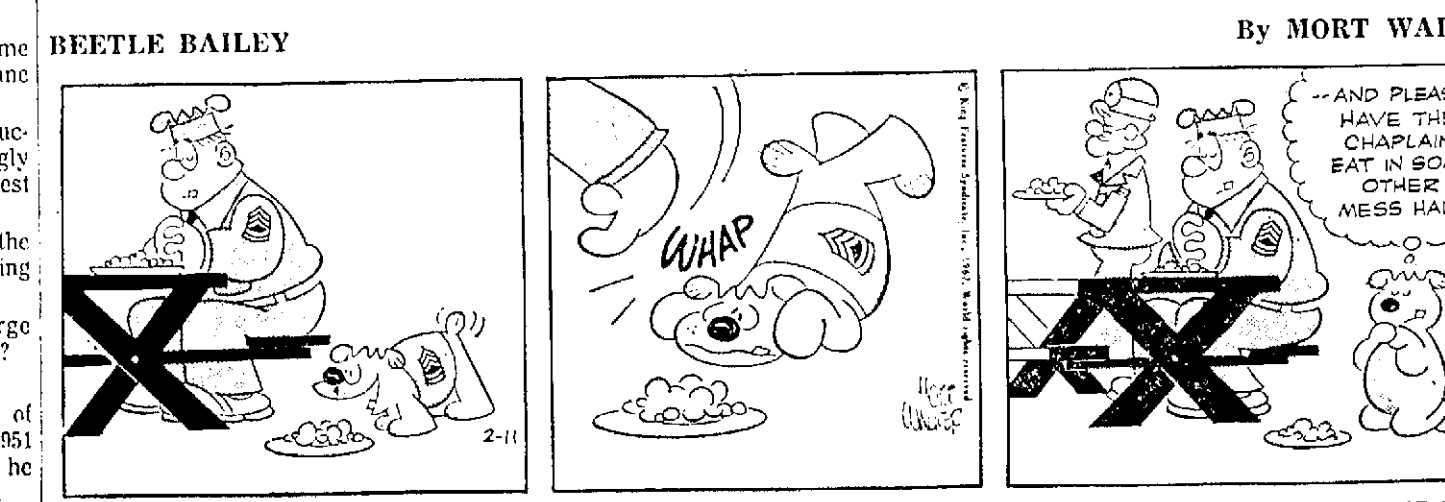

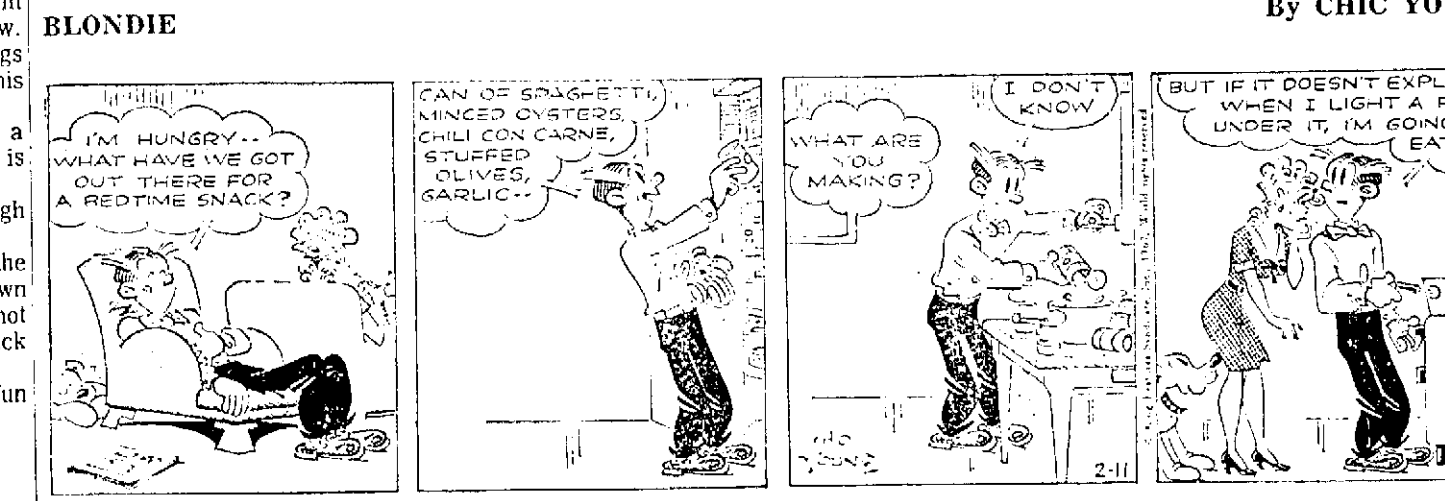

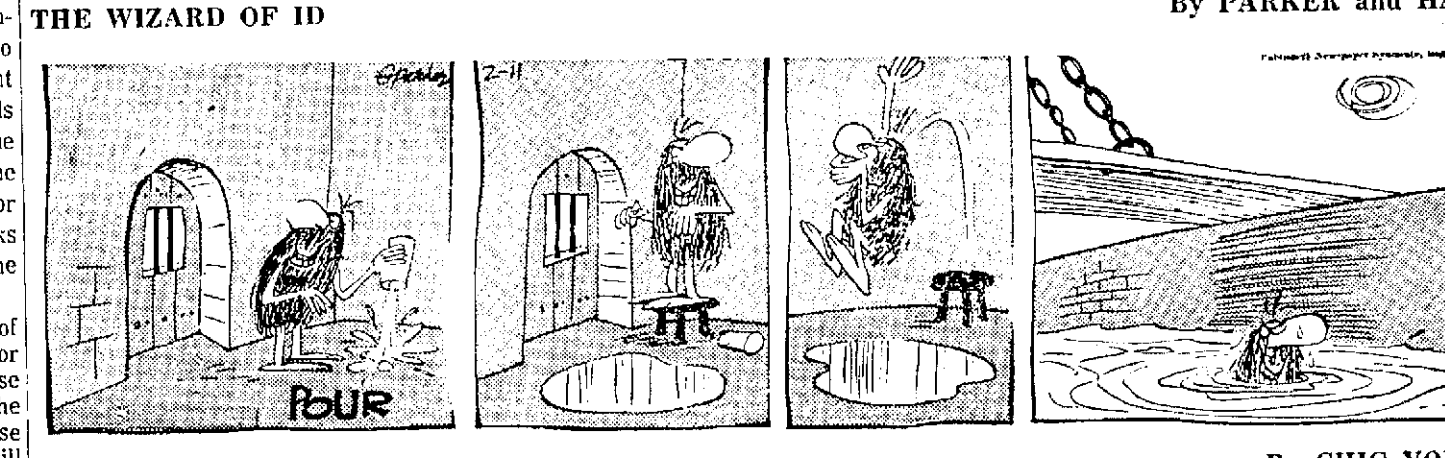

To get the coins out of the pigs, turn the unit upside down and shake it. Coins you do not want to spend can be put back into the proper pigs.

Monday: Lots more good fun for every boy and girl!

Great One's Show Like Laurel, Hardy
BY TV SCOUT
6:30 - 7:30 Channels 2-7-12—
Once again "The Honeymooners" on The Jackie Gleason Show provides the most volatile and versatile hour of the evening. The format is as old-fashioned and flexible as a Laurel and Hardy routine with Jackie and Art Carney as Ralph Kramden and Ed Norton trying to outsmart their wives, Alice and Trixie, in an amateur contest. The boys are convinced they'll win with their mind reading tricks and soft shoe dance, "Hand Me Down My Hat."

4:53-30 Channels 11-9 — Wide World of Sports is occupied with the International Ski Jumping Championship in Garmisch, Germany. Bjorn Wirkola of Norway, the current world record holder, and two Olympic champions Viko Konkonen of Finland and Toralf Engan of Norway are the big - high - flying guys to watch. FILM CLIPS OF HOUSTON'S WORLD HEAVY-WEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT BETWEEN CASSIUS (MUHAMMAD ALI) CLAY AND WBA CHAMP ERNIE TERRELL WILL BE SHOWN. HOWARD COSELL WITH DESCRIBE THE ACTION.

6:30 - 7 Channels 4-5 Flipper finally gets around to an episode involving Doris Dowling as Aunt Martha. It's a homey exercise with the lady explicated at the lovely dolphins' tricks.

7:30 - 8 Channels 4-5 — The Man From YENTA" is as filling as a big bagel with lots of cream cheese on Get Smart. There is considerable nonsense in this meandering tale which has Don Adams up against a KAOS assassin who can impersonate just about anybody.

7:30 - 8:30 Channels 2-12 — Mission: Impossible has a grim but an engrossing episode about a wild attempt to revive Adolf Hitler's ideas of how to rule the world.

8-10 Channels 4-5 — "Dark City" on Saturday Night at the Movies is a routine melodrama and only interesting in that it of The Holywood Palace and it's guests are Kaye Stevens, aerial presents a young Charleston his show all they way. The enlists The Rhodins, comic Lee Heston in a non-heroic role that, tertainer is in jubilant form Tully and the acrobatic Mashe has scarcely done since. He singing "Two of a Kind", with cotts.

UW-Green Bay Might Handle Overflow From City Campus

Post-Crescent News Service
MADISON — The University of Wisconsin (UW) - Green Bay can open in 1969 offering only instruction to overflow students from the existing freshman-sophomore city center, Chancellor Edward W. Weidner said Friday.

Posed with the problem after an evening session of planners and political participants in the campus development process, the head of the new UW branch said the university has not ruled out that possibility as an alternative acceptable to the institution.

The possibility has been raised by Sen. Jerris Leonard, R-Bayside, in attempts to compromise the divergent viewpoints of the UW and the State Building Commission on campus development.

Handle Overflow
Leonard's position incorporates a plan to postpone the actual campus opening to 1970, offering only freshman and sophomore courses in a single building on the new campus site to students crowded out of the existing Green Bay Center, and state spending of about $26.5 million on the two planned branch campuses before the actual 1970 opening date.

From the start of instruction in 1970, all four years of course work would be offered in at least two buildings on each of the campuses in Brown and Kenosha counties.

The university originally requested $28.5 million for development of the institutions, based on junior-senior operations and a hoped-for opening date of 1969.

Leonard's commission subcommittee cut that figure to $12.8 million, plus planning funds.

Poses Roadblock
At the session in a private Madison Club, Leonard posed a roadblock in the path of campus development planning.

His subcommittee may not legally be authorized to release an additional $500,000 for campus planning to the university, he said. The original law au-

Steiger Hits Record Johnson Budget At Winnebago Lincoln Day Dinner

Oshkosh GOP Congressman Makes First Home Appearance Since Election in November

BY CLIFF MILLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — The taste of triumph still sweet in their mouths, Winnebago County Republicans heard the man who won back the Sixth District congressional seat for them speak Friday night of positive GOP policies to continue the "onward and upward rise" of the party's fortunes.

Rep. William A. Steiger, Oshkosh, told a sell-out crowd of more than 400 party loyalists that a list of 26 "positive Republican proposals" that he waved while he spoke could be turned into "a record we can run on and win the presidency on in 1968."

He said the party must show the Democratic Administration it cannot cope with current problems with programs that "used to work in 1930."

First Appearance

The youthful Steiger's Lincoln Day address at the Pioneer Motel was his first public appearance in his home district since being seated in the House a month ago. It contained the expected quotations and references to Abraham Lincoln, while centering on a theme scornful of Democrats' losses during last November's elections, critical of Administration policies, yet warning against relaxing in the belief that through its mistakes "the other side will help us along at the polls."

A major share of his remarks, both at a news conference before the dinner and during his speech, were pointed at what he called federal "budget trick-ery and political financing" in the new budget request presented recently by President Johnson.

Debt Limit

Steiger said Republicans had attempted without success to alter budget and debt policies last year by voting for a smaller deficit this week by voting for a proposal to have "participation certificates" sold by the government counted in adding up the national debt. He said leaving the amounts of these certificates out of the official accounting make the debt appear some $4 billion lower than it is.

Republicans also voted, he said, "almost to a man" against the measure which nevertheless passed in the House to increase the temporary debt limit from $330 to $336 billion.

The Administration is also guilty of "trickery," said Steiger, in its use of figures which make the proposed budget deficit appear smaller than it is. There are five different ways of computing the budget and deficit, he said, and the administration is using a different accounting method this year than last because it produces a smaller deficit figure.

Lower Interest

He also said Republican leaders are proposing that Congress take away some of the freedom of agencies to spend as they wish from unobligated funds which are appropriated in flat sums without an assigned purpose. Such appropriations total almost $50 billion, he said.

He also argued for federal borrowing on longer-term, lower interest forms of loans at what he claimed could be savings of $25 million to $50 million a year, and criticized the proposed budget for failing to include a priority list of items in order of importance and urgency.

He accused the Defense Department of misleading the public in estimates of its costs by "underestimating expenditures and overestimating revenues."

On other topics, he said he would favor a halt of this country's bombing in North Vietnam "only if it were possible to get from Hanoi some clear indication that they would do something to blunt, to slow or to stop" the infiltration of men and arms into the south.

Tax Increase

Steiger predicted "the effort will be made by members of both parties" to reduce the proposed federal budget enough to avoid a tax increase such as President Johnson's proposed 6 per cent surtax, but said it was too early to predict whether the effort would be successful.

He called Red China "the biggest stop in terms of not letting Hanoi come to the conference table," so that nation's present internal strife could work to the advantage of this country, although the ultimate effects could not be forecast.

The dinner crowd also heard William Cops, county chairman, praise party workers' efforts in the past campaign and their full turnout for the Lincoln Day affair, but added that Steiger's 3,100 vote winning margin in the county "wasn't exactly what we should consider comfortable."

Dynamic Voice

Cops read a letter from Ody Fish, state party chairman, declaring the Republican sweep in November made it "no longer the voice of the opposition," but rather a "vibrant, dynamic voice, a voice that will be heard above the din and confusion of the so-called 'Great Society.'"

Sixth District Chairman Bernard Ziegler, in his introduction of Steiger, called the GOP "a proud and a rejuvenated party" that had realized the dividends of its investment of time, energy and funds.

Now Undergoing Tests

Town of Menasha Adding Second Well to Water Works System

MENASHA — A second attempt to add another well to the Town of Menasha water system is underway along Chain Drive, north of the elevated water tank.

Martin Hendricks, chairman of Sanitary District No. 4, said the new well, which if added to the system would be the second, went under testing Friday. It is hoped it would provide 1,000 gallons-per-minute additional water.

The present well pumps 500 gallons per minute, but was serving 520 customers at the start of this year and the number is growing rapidly, Hendricks said. Some 35 customers were added during the past month, he pointed out. When warm weather returns, the growth pace is expected to pick up more, he said. "We're not kicking about the present well, but we are looking to the future," said Hendricks. The water system went into operation last spring and summer.

Hendricks said the test well is about 437 feet deep, near the bottom of the present operating sewers, in borderline areas between the two municipalities.

well during tests. "We're holding our breath," he said.

A previous attempt to sink a second well on land north of the town hall failed when the materials the hold passed through caved in after a depth of 120 feet was reached, he said.

Drawing Card

Hendricks said that besides making sure the system is ready when the number of customers reaches the peak number the present well can serve, additional water reserves are all so looked upon as a possible drawing card for bringing industry into the town.

It is no secret, either, that town officials see a good water supply as a possible hedge against annexation attempts, particularly by Appleton, which is currently experiencing water problems of its own.

Menasha is in the process of expanding its water system, activity that could also have some implications in future annexation moves. The city and town only recently reached mutual settlement of one dispute centering on water service, as well as, in borderline areas between the two municipalities.

Schedule Hours To Register for April Election

City Clerk Advises Deadline Is Feb. 22; Cites Changes

Those who have not voted in Appleton for two years must register to cast ballots in the March 7 primary election. City Clerk Elden Broehm announced Friday.

The deadline for registering is Feb. 22.

Broehm also advised that: —Persons who moved to Appleton, having resided in Wisconsin for six months and the city for 10 days, can register.

—Change of address must be reported by those who have moved within a ward or from one ward to another.

—Any change of name must be reported.

—Residents may register at the clerk's office Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m.

However, special registration hours will be in effect Friday and Saturday, Feb. 17 and 18. The Friday hours will be 5 to 8 p.m., and the Saturday schedule from 8 a.m. to noon.

The city primary will center on a field of five candidates seeking two board of education posts. The top four "vote-getters" in March will have their name on the April ballot.

There will also be a primary election for aldermen in the 9th and 11th wards.

Pets Stray; Constable About Fit to be Tied

MENASHA — Loose animals have Town Constable Robert Weyenberg about fit to be tied. In the past 10 days, he said, he has nabbed seven dogs, three cats and a chicken that were running loose and brought complaints.

He issued a plea to residents to keep their animals confined, pointing out it costs $1 a day to board them at the Animal Welfare League Shelter, and if unclaimed the bill goes to the town.

General Aviation Operator Standards Set for Oshkosh

Tumult and Shouting Mark Winnebago County Meeting

OSHKOSH — Amid considerable tumult and shouting, the Winnebago County Board's aviation committee Friday night approved minimum standards for fixed base operators at the county airport.

The 36-page document will now be forwarded to the State Aeronautics Commission and the Federal Aviation Agency for their approval.

The last big question on the standards minimum size of a hangar for a multiple-purpose operator, was settled with relatively little dispute but the procedure for starting lease negotiations with William Brennan was another thing.

A minimum hangar size of 4,320 square feet was agreed upon in a 3-1 committee vote with Supv. Al Stafford, Neenah, holding out for a larger minimum.

Supv. Al Pinckley, Oshkosh, told the committee they were basically faced with a choice of setting the minimum at 4,320 square feet or 4,800 square feet because of the dimensions of standard hangar construction material. If the county required anything larger, Pinckley warned, the standards could be rejected by the FAA which could hamper the north-south runway construction project.

Stafford, who is chairman of the committee, said the possible blocking of runway aid funds, by the filing of a complaint, "sounded like a threat."

County Corporation Counsel, Gerald Engeldinger told the committee that from a legal standpoint he felt either the 4,320 square feet or the 4,800 square feet would be acceptable.

Alty Joseph Shiff, representing Warren Basler who is currently the only general aviation operator on the airport, has sought to have the committee maintain a minimum of 5,000 square feet for a hangar while Gary Yakes, attorney for Brennan, was seeking to lease lease proposal until the lease was ready for submission to the county board for approval.

During the ensuing argument, which lasted for about 25 minutes, Stafford at one point turned off the lights in the committee room in an attempt to restore order — and failed.

The only agreement reached was a tentative location on the airport for Brennan's operation. The site selected fronts on Knapp Street Road, slightly south of the present control tower location.

Yakes said they would like to proceed to obtain bids on utility costs for the operation.

Menasha Officials were going over their space requirements for expanded city offices Friday with Robert Paynter, right, of Sauter-Seaborn Architects, Ltd., of Appleton. Clark-Comptroller Harry Kind, left, and Mayor Kenneth Holmes are shown examining tentative floor plans inside the vacant bank adjoining the present city offices. The city is considering expanding office space to occupy both structures. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Expect First Floor Plans Preparation to Start Soon

MENASHA — Architects expect to begin immediately preparing working drawings for the first floor portion of proposed expanded city offices.

Robert Paynter, of Sauter-Seaborn Architects, Ltd., Appleton, conferred Friday with city officials to determine the space needs of the various offices located in the present building.

He said this morning most questions had been settled, leaving the department of public works the main segment of city operations still needing further discussions.

Since that department is to be located on the second floor, it is possible to begin making

Teenage Bands To Compete In 'Battle'

Contest Sponsored By Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber

NEENAH - MENASHA — Ten teen-age rock 'n roll bands will compete Sunday in the Neenah-Menasha Jaycees "Battle of the Bands" contest at St. Patrick Gym in Menasha. Competition will start at 1:30 p.m.

A total of $100 in prizes will go to the winning bands with the winner advancing to state competition at Milwaukee. The state winner will receive $300 and an expense paid trip to the national battle of the bands contest in Boston in May.

Bands from Neenah competing are "The London Hour," "Keep Lovin'" and "Danny and the Vandals." The Menasha entry is "The Renegades."

Four bands are entered from Appleton. They are "The Allusions," "Inner Minds," "Ecclectics," and "Syndicate."

"The Cominos" from Kimberly and the "Torquays" from Oshkosh complete the list.

107 Accidents During Month

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County reported 107 traffic accidents in January, including four fatalities, according to Capt. Edwin Harwood, Winnebago County Safety Director. There were a total of 26 personal injuries in the 107 accidents.

Major contributing factor in the accidents was driving too fast for conditions, according to Harwood. This was reported in 55 of the accidents. Failure to yield the right-of-way was cited in 20 accidents.

Of the 195 drivers involved in the accidents, only 21 were found to have been wearing seat belts, property damage in all accidents was estimated at $53,721. There were 21 arrests made of drivers involved in accidents.

Lenten Reading List Prepared By Library Unit

KAUKAUNA — The Friends of the Library committee Thursday mailed letters to all pastors in the city, Little Chute, Kimberly and Combined Locks, informing them of Lenten reading material available at the public library.

The committee hopes various pastors will include Lenten reading lists in their church bulletins. The list also will be posted in the library. This is the first promotional effort by the recently organized group.

Kaukauna pastors were also informed of a "magazine for cut-ups" plan whereby a variety of magazines will be made available to youngsters who need clipping material for school projects. The magazines will be made available and delivered to schools for children who may not get magazines at home, but still must clip items for school work.

At present the project will be limited to use within the city, but it is hoped the program can be expanded to permit outsiders also to make use of this service.

Robbi to Address Kaukauna K of C

KAUKAUNA — Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein, Appleton, will speak on "The History of Judaism" at a meeting of the Knights of Columbus at 8:15 p.m. Monday at the K of C hall.

Plans will be discussed for the annual Couples Crusade, scheduled for March 5 at St. Paul Catholic Church, Combined Locks.

New Assistant cashier at Neenah West National Bank is Roy L. Gross, elected by the board of directors earlier this week. Gross, a local businessman 16 years, joined the bank staff in May, 1966, as manager of business development.

A Drilling Rig on Land along Chain Drive in the Town of Menasha marks a possible site of a planned 1,000 gallon per minute well for the town water system. The test hole, 437 feet deep, would be the second well in the system if tests show it meets requirement. Testing began Friday. The new water tank shows in the background to the south. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Cherry Court Group Wants Extended Street

40 Residents Ask For Link With Gardeners Row

The extension of Cherry Court to connect with Gardeners Row has been petitioned by more than 40 residents in the immediate vicinity.

The petition was filed with Mayor George Buckley and the Appleton Council Thursday, just a few days after another group of 10th Ward residents indicated they would oppose the Cherry Court extension.

However, Mrs. George Narovec, 60 Garden Court, who wrote a letter to the mayor's office last week and sought advice on seceding from Appleton to the adjoining Town of Menasha, has signed the latest petition and wants the sewer and street project undertaken.

Most of the signers reside on Garden Court and Calumet Street, indicative that Cherry Court residences have not dropped their opposition to the public works project tentatively agreed on by city and town officials.

Timing Essential

Public works department officials say it is imperative the project receive council approval as soon as possible because the fall for establishing the grade for the sewer and street extension will come from the College Avenue excavation work.

The avenue will be torn up next month as the reconstruction enters its major phase.

Petitioners said they would be directly affected by the 10th Ward project and urged favorable action on extension of sanitary sewer from Cherry Court to Gardeners Row (east), and the connection of Cherry Court with Gardeners Row along Calumet Street to improve the street and traffic pattern in that area.

"Favorable action is vitally needed for both projects because sanitary sewer to our area can be cut off from the present hookup with Sanitary District No. 2, Town of Menasha, upon only 30 days notice which could leave 27 homes on Garden Court without sanitary sewer service," petitioners said.

Health Problems

"This in turn could result in serious inconvenience and health problems to these 27 families whose real estate assessments equal $223,375," they added. They emphasized the extension of Cherry Court to Garden Court was "even more vital" because of existing problems of ingress and egress to Garden Court.

It is presently attained by way of Grove Street, Lynch Avenue and Memorial Drive, where traffic will be further increased by the completion of a new shopping center being constructed on Lynch Avenue opposite Skall's Supper Club, the petitioners contended.

Gardeners Row and Calumet Street residents said they concur in the recommendation of engineers that the extension is feasible and will cost an estimated $50,000 for both sewer and street.

Cut Cost

They said by taking advantage of the College Avenue fill available, the project cost is being reduced.

"We point out that of those who oppose this project, only four or five property owners along the proposed extension will be affected to some degree," the petitioners claimed. "All other property owners who signed a petition opposing the extension do not border the proposed extension and live considerable distance away."

They said the city should weigh and give consideration to the needs and welfare of 27 families over those owners who desire to retain Cherry Court as is for exclusive and aesthetic purposes only.

Honey Queen to Speak At Little Chute Kiwanis Valentine Party

LITTLE CHUTE — Miss Peggy Sousak, Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh student serving as state "Honey Queen," will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club Valentine party at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hammen's Restaurant.

Alliance Sets Goals For Oshkosh Parley

Seek Legislation Consideration On Tax, Annexation Reforms

A plan for proposing various tax and annexation reforms to the state legislature will be member of the National League of Cities Advisory Committee, will outline the League's legislative proposals at the afternoon session.

An estimated 75 to 100 municipal officials will attend the Alliance of Cities conference Wednesday and Thursday at the Pioneer.

Mayor George Buckley said today he and others from the city hall staff will attend, along with mayors from throughout the Fox Valley.

Wisconsin's aged tax distribution and sharing systems, along with antiquated annexation laws, will come under heavy attack from the chief executives of the state's more populated cities.

Formulate Proposals

With fiscal problems being their main headache, the representatives of Wisconsin's urban centers intend to formulate legislative proposals to be forwarded to the state's lawmakers at Madison.

Milwaukee originally launched the crusade for statewide tax reform, contending new formulas were needed along with a change in annexation laws to deal with the problems of townships ballooning into "tax islands."

Mayor Henry W. Maier, Milwaukee, has hit hard at the issue for changing the formulas for income tax, property and utility tax relief. They will be discussed at the Wednesday morning session.

Murphy Concrete Products ment, terms of which were set by the NLRB, the Murphy Company, Inc., a Kaukauna-based firm doing business partly stipulated it will not "interfere with, restrain, or coerce" its employees in their efforts to bargain collectively.

The order by the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) stems from unfair labor practices charges filed against the firm by Teamsters Local 563, the certified bargaining agent for the drivers.

Since the NLRB found that the Murphy Company committed unfair labor practices, union down the Kimberly or any other and company officials have entered into a settlement agreement which provides for the employer to pay the $5,000, ties along with complying with several NLRB orders.

Rails Rough On Car, Wallet

An 18-year-old motorist who mistook railroad tracks for an alley and delayed a train for 20 minutes, forfeited a $29 bond Friday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

John C. Kruckeberg, 2507 N. Morrison St., was charged with disorderly conduct following investigation by Appleton police.

The youth reportedly turned on to railroad tracks near the 100 block of N. Richmond Street Feb. 7. Police said that Kruckeberg, after realizing he was on railroad tracks, continued driving, thinking he could get through to a street.

However, the car got stuck on a switch. A passenger train was delayed, police said, until a wrecker removed the vehicle which Kruckeberg had left on the tracks with the lights on.

Conference Sets Objectives

Coordinators Told to Help Students In High School Select Careers

"The job of a coordinator of cooperative education on the high school level is to help the student select his profession, but it is up to the student to decide what he wants to do," vocational coordinators were told Friday.

Speaking on selection of students for the on-the-job-training programs in high school was Daryl Nichols, Chicago, field representative of the U.S. Office of Education. The conference was sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction (SDPI) and arranged by Appleton Public Schools.

"In helping the student decide his interests, we must remember that we have obligations to businesses, schools, students, teachers and future programs," Nichols told the audience of about 70.

People Pay

If we are to continue the program, we have to make sure that the employers, who are co-operating with the schools in preparing the student for his future, get a trustworthy employee, Nichols said.

"Nor can we afford to dirty the name of the school to the people in the community, who, after all, are the ones who pay for the education and the salaries through taxes," he added.

Of equal importance are the teachers. The distributive education, program after all, is built upon the general education administered by the regular teachers, he said.

"And we must make sure that the student gets the best possible guidance from the coordinator; that we steer him in the right direction," Nichols said.

Nichols also listed the 10 qualities which should be rated for each student, classifying them in poor, below average, average, above average and superior categories.

Lists Qualities

Dependability, cultural refinement, leadership, industriousness, mental alertness, thoroughness, personal appearance and grooming, ability to get along with others, social habits and the meeting.

High Purity Standards Set State's Lakes, Streams

Citizens Advisory Committee Reviews Water Quality Criteria Developed by Resource Group

GREEN BAY — The State Department of Resource Development (DRD) has been handed by advisory groups in each of the five DRD regions in the ultimate request in its fight against water pollution — to make Wisconsin streams and lakes pure enough to drink.

Richard Steinbrink of Green Bay, chairman of a 20-county northeastern Wisconsin pollution advisory board, told department representatives Friday that natural waters "should be kept at a drinking-water level."

Steinbrink said the area represented by his board — from Fond du Lac to the Michigan state line — has "the most difficult water problems in the state to solve."

During a meeting of the board and the department representatives, it was noted the area has some relatively clean waters, such as the head waters of the Wolf River, portions of the Brule, Pine and Poplar rivers, and the Land O'Lakes region.

Reserve Rate

At today's meeting, William R. Nelson, director of research and development, Green Bay Packaging, Inc. said multi-million dollar expenditures have enabled paper companies "to reverse the rate of pollution" of the Fox River. The Fox is improving, he said, and his industry is determined to see that it continues to do so.

He said that Green Bay's four integrated pulp and paper mills alone have pumped more than $13 million into the effort during the past 12 years, and that there have been comparable outlays by other mills situated along the Fox between Lake Winnebago and Green Bay.

In elections at the two-day meeting, Thomas Howe, general manager for manufacturing of Kimberly - Clark Co., Neenah, was chosen regional representative on the state advisory board to the DRD. Dr. Robert Dahlstrom, a Manitowoc biochemist is vice chairman.

Main topic, running through the agenda, was a study of water quality criteria developed by the DRD staff. After a review of the criteria will be heard at a series of public hearings slated for March and April in 10 cities.

Set Deadline

Deadline for approval of interstate water standards by the U. S. Department of the Interior is June 30, and these standards will also form the administrative rules of the DRD for handling inland water problems, said Theodore Wisniewski, acting director of the water resources division of the DRD.

The criteria presented at the meeting included minimum level covering all surface waters, public water supply sources, fish and other aquatic life, recreation waters and industrial and cooling water supplies.

Specific minimum requirements for each type of water use are spelled out, with the provision that no pollution source may be allowed to lower the average quality of an existing water source even if the existing quality is above the minimum.

Clear Debris

Minimum standards also require water to be free from silt resulting from poor farming practices, free from floating debris, oil or scum and materials harmful to human, plant or animal life.

For public water supplies, levels are set for bacteria, dissolved solids, radioactivity counts and mineral levels.

The DRD will have a guideline booklet ready in a few weeks to help local governments in floodplain and shoreline zoning. These meetings will be held later in April.

The advisory board decided to invite representatives of the Wolf River, Fox Valley and Brown County Regional Planning Commissions to all future meetings. The next meeting is March 17 in Green Bay.

Warren Knowles presents one of Wisconsin's new Blue Books to Neenah Eagle Scout Dick Bard, 16, of Post 43, during ceremonies at the capitol marking the 57th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.
